IMPORTANT:

- As with any wildlife experience there are no guarantees of success. In the unlikely event that we are unable to locate orcas or any other marine mammals, we offer you a free trip . If we are unable to swim with the orcas due to their behaviour (or any other factor), we will refund back to a spectator rate.

- Swimming with orcas in Andenes in the open ocean can be a strenuous activity that requires general physical fitness and good health. Sea conditions can be variable and water temperatures are generally relatively low. Should you have a medical history or have a condition that may be aggravated by such conditions, it is important to disclose any such information in order to assist our crew in managing operations. Such conditions are (but not restricted to): diabetes, epilepsy, high blood pressure, heart conditions, any respiratory conditions, or pregnancy.
