Editors Note

Schools back! I hope everyone is recovered from the epic week that is Kulin Bush Races and managed a few days away for R&R. The last term of school is often the busiest with Christmas looming, swimming lessons when the pool opens and harvest time so I hope you're ready!

This next few months we have the following events coming up;

• RAW Fitness – with Letisha Marshall, Tuesday evenings 6pm & Thursday 1pm for the next 5 WEEKS. I've been going to these classes and highly recommend them if you have summer fitness goals and need someone to help motivate you!

• Aladdin Pantomime – dress up as your favourite character, a great family night out everyone welcome. Tickets available from the shire or Try Booking $10 - $15 family passes available too, Saturday 5pm, October 22.

• Cuppa with a Copper – come and meet our new local cops at the Shire office for morning tea and an information Q&A time – Wednesday November 2.

• Citizenship Awards – formerly Australia Day awards, nominate a local hero now for one of four categories, nominations close Oct 31. The awards will be presented at our Australia Day BBQ at the pool in January.

Finally, I just wanted to mention that the Kulin Bush Races demonstrated why the iconic, award winning event has endured for 22 years last weekend. A dedicated team of 193 volunteers turned out to help run the day, showing tremendous resilience and community spirit amidst trying weather conditions and a clash of dates with the AFL Grand Final (go doggies!). There's still been overwhelmingly positive feedback from the people who did attend the event. I think that there is an exciting future still to come for this event!

The irony that Mental Health week 2016 occurs at a time when grain growers are venturing out into the paddocks to inspect winter frost damage to their livelihoods is not missed by me.

www.citizenshipawards.com.au

The messages of life have always been the same – that hopes and dreams can be reversed in a flash, but the resilience of mankind simply relies on one other thing – mankind.

The messages of mental health week echo that same theme, your best journey in life no matter your current circumstances is to share with your fellow travellers. We are not alone. We all can take a lesson from this simple message. If you have troubles – and we all do, share with someone who will listen.

ISo among all this marvellous community and individual resilience I see and witness every day in this my community, I urge all to spend the time, develop the patience of silence and practice the skill of getting outside of your own head to offer a caring, listening, non-judgemental ear to those who are in need of sharing.

As a community leader, the things I and we collectively can do and achieve are important, but more important in my view is the role we play in being able to develop our communities to be able to stop and listen and offer the support to those in need.
Therefore in that sense I'm happy to oblige anytime – 0429 201350.

If you or a friend needs assistance – many wonderful services can be contacted for support and, after having listened I can direct you to those who specialise in help too if that is your wish.

Shire News

Untidy Blocks

With the advent of spring and the annual Bush Races many visitors will be coming to our town for a multitude of reasons, not the least being we are quite simply a fantastic place to be at.

With the above in mind the Shire, on behalf of all those residents who do the right thing, appeal to all to set aside some time to clean up around your home and in particular make the effort now to get rid of potential fire hazards that will exist once the grasses dry off. There is also the issue that long grass and rubbish makes an ideal home for snakes and other unwanted pests.

In past years the Council has not seriously considered issuing infringements however this year there will be no warnings given to anyone not complying with the firebreak order.

The section of the firebreak order that applies to townsite land is as follows:

"Land Area less than 1 hectare:-

All hazardous material must be removed from the whole of the land except living trees, shrubs and plants. In the remaining area all vegetation is to be maintained to a height of no greater than 100mm, and;

It be recommended that at least a 2m wide area, immediately within the external boundaries of the lot, be clear of all flammable material except for living trees, plants and shrubs."

For information any land of one hectare or above the rural provisions apply.

Your support and cooperation on this matter is greatly appreciated.

Kulin District High School

Dear Parents, Guardians and Community Members

Re: Kulin District High School Presentation Night 2016

It is now time for us to seek sponsors for our 2016 Presentation Night and we would like to know if you would be interested in supporting us this year.

The Presentation Night will be held on Wednesday 14th December at the Freebairn Recreation Centre commencing at 6.00pm and will include performances as well as presentation of awards.

The award recipients will receive a certificate, a book voucher and a Kulin DHS inscribed pen. The book voucher is valid for twelve months and offers students the opportunity to purchase a book of their choice.

There are four levels of sponsorship available:

- Kindy/Pre-Primary $20.00
- Year 1 – Year 6 $25.00
- Year 7 – Year 10 $35.00
- Sponsorship to a value of your choice

The school will endeavour to accommodate your preferences however awards will be allocated as we receive them and only one sponsor will be allocated to each award. After all sponsor requests have been accommodated, any additional sponsorship monies will be used for school activities conducted throughout the year.

All awards will be presented by the Principal, Deputy Principal or teacher. All sponsors names will be printed in the program and acknowledged on presentation of the awards.

Should you have any queries or if you do not wish to continue as a prize donor, please contact the school on 9880 1264 as soon as possible.

Yours sincerely

Steph Marsh

With the warmer weather hopefully fast approaching can you please make sure that you pack a spare set of clothes for your children as we often have water play and things can get pretty wet and wild as you might be aware. As per our policy singlets and tank tops are not to be worn to day care, T-Shirts are a better option for sun protection. Please also please check that your child has a hat in their bag, a wide brimmed hat once again for the sun protection.

We are doing a hat fundraiser in October and will let everyone know when the forms come in.

NUTRITION WEEK

During the week of the 16th to the 22nd of October we will be participating in nutrition week by asking parents to pack healthy lunches and snacks during this week and let's try the no prepackaged challenge try to pack the whole lunch box with no prepackaged food Check out pintrest they have some great lunch and snack ideas that are quick and healthy.

COMMUNITY EVENTS

WORLD TEACHERS DAY – 5TH

Every day, teachers are making a difference educating and inspiring young people across Australia. World Teachers' Day is an opportunity to acknowledge our teachers and say thanks for the significant contributions they make in our classrooms and communities.

Celebrated in more than 100 countries worldwide, World Teachers Day was established by the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organisation (UNESCO) in 1994 to recognise the role of teachers in society.

WORLD SMILE DAY – 7TH

Do an act of kindness. Help one person SMILE!

Celebrated on the first Friday in the month of October every year. The idea of World Smile Day was coined and initiated by Harvey Ball, a commercial artist from Worcester, Massachusetts. Harvey Ball is known to have created the Smiley Face in 1963. The World's first World Smile Day was held in the year 1999 and has been held annually since.

KIDS IN THE KITCHEN

Rosemary Chicken With Warm Bean Salad

PREP 10min | COOK 20 min | SERVE 4

Ingredients

500g Chicken Breast
1 tbsp. Finely chopped fresh rosemary
1/4 Cup balsamic vinegar
1 Small red onion (thinly sliced)
400g Can cannellini beans (rinsed, drained)
2 cups Sliced green beans
250g Cherry tomatoes
400g Steamed new potatoes (to serve)
Lemon wedges (to serve)

Method

1. Spray a large frying pan with oil and place over high heat. Cook chicken for 2–3 minutes each side, or until golden and just cooked through. Add rosemary and vinegar and cook, stirring, for 1 minute. Transfer to a plate and cover to keep warm.

2. Re-spray pan with a little more oil. Add onion and cook for 3–4 minutes, or until soft.

3. Add cannellini beans, green beans, cherry tomatoes and 2 tablespoons water. Heat for 3-4 minutes, or until vegies are hot and tomatoes begin to split.

4. Serve chicken and vegies with steamed new potatoes and lemon wedges.

App Reviews

A Parcel of Courage

FREE | Mariya Stavinskaya

"A Parcel of Courage" is a highly interactive graphic book app for preschoolers, filled with robust learning activities and unique educational games based on two proven teaching methods: Montessori method and Shichida method. Many interactive activities within the heartwarming story are paired to reinforce the storyline, so that your kiddo can better comprehend the content and improve: spatial awareness, working memory, hand eye coordination, sequencing and listening skills as well as enhance his/her problem solving skills.

Little Big Foot

$5.99 | Mothership Publishing

Read and play along with Little Big Foot as he leaves home for the first time and explores the wonders of the Big City. Packed with beautiful animations and an original music score, it's the perfect entertainment experience for you and your children. Full of intuitive and fun interactions and a deeply immersive story, there's lots to keep you and your children entertained.

Peekaboo Wild

$2.99 | Night & Day Studios, Inc.

Get ready to discover adorable animal friends from all around the world. Explore the waving grasses of the African savannah or the drifting Arctic ice; scout the Australian outback before dashing off to Asia's bamboo forests. Wherever you go, you'll find friendly animals and their babies waiting to pop out and delight your little one. Tap the habitat to see who is hiding there! Younger children will love playing peekaboo with animals, as they learn about cause-and-effect, and familiarize themselves with the names and sounds of animals.

Focus Article: The Future Job Market

When you ask your child "what do you want to be when you grow up?" how do they answer, is it what you expected or something completely different. Child Magazine's Natalie Ritchie presents what jobs of the future will look like for your preschoolers.

What does the workplace future hold for today's preschoolers? Our kids will have 14 jobs in six careers, and 60 percent of the tasks they'll do in 2020 have not been invented yet, according to Melbourne-based futurist Morris Miselowski, businessfuturist.com. Where will those jobs be, and what will they be like?

Game It! When Morris told parents years ago their children would be gaming for a job, they were horrified. Gamification is going to be where a lot of the jobs are, with $80,000 starting salaries. Virtual realities can be used to trial new habits, teach people to do things or for online learning, and doctors and psychologists use Gamification to learn about how the mind works. "It's not just about designing games," says Morris.

Gig It Will our kids be worse or better off?
It won't necessarily be either, just different, says Morris. Rather than the nine to five, our kids will have a portfolio of tasks. Their central income avenue will be less certain, and likely supplemented by casualised activities such as selling on Etsy or renting out a room on AirBnB. "They'll work until they're 90, live until they're 120 or beyond," says Morris.
The 'gig economy' will grow through online talent platforms like upwork.com and Freelancer.com, which already connect workers with hirers around the world. The downside is these sites are pushing pay-rates down, as freelancers outbid one another in a race to the bottom.

While incomes might fall, our kids will focus on experiences rather than ownership. "They'll drive the car for a weekend rather than own the car," says Morris. On-demand 3D printing is about to transform our ability to produce our own stuff at next to no cost and will open up as yet undreamt of jobs. "You'll buy a template for a pair of Size 9 shoes and tailor their look to suit you. I believe tomorrow's billionaire sits inside that industry."

Frank advises kids to train for what they'd like to do, but with much more of an eye to the end product and the use of technology. An example is architectural technology replacing the need for draughtsmen. "We still need the architects, but the way they do their job has changed."

Code It To prepare for a digital world, girls at Sydney's Roseville College are learning to 'code with purpose'. This skill is much more than learning to write in 'computer language', says the school's Teaching and Learning Innovation Executive, Abi Woldhuis. Rather, it develops skills the future demands, such as advanced problem solving and the ability to identify and break problems into manageable chunks. "It also requires communication and collaboration, creativity and critical thinking."

"Future employees will need to know more than how to use a computer," said Abi. They'll need to understand how computers work, what makes software and apps operate, how to troubleshoot and how technology integrates with business operations. This will no longer be the sole domain of dedicated programmers.
Our kids will have a lifelong education, and not necessarily a formal one, says Morris. 'Nano-degrees' will break down learning into relevant and bite-sized certifications for workers.
The future is not all high-tech, though. Handmade items will go head to head with mass-produced brands on sites like notonthehighstreet.com "Our kids will have the opportunity to be an artisan, to truly be a craftsperson," Morris said.

Passports at the Ready Our kids will encounter not just techno-change, but geo-change. It'll be far more common to move overseas for assignments. Multi-national organisations will move their talent between international offices to their most dynamic and skills-deprived markets. That means today's pre-schoolers will need language skills, sensitivity as to what works in different geographies, flexibility to lean into the changes of a digital world, and adaptability so they can quickly settle into a new environment, says Peter.

To the Future – and Beyond! Don't fret, Morris Miselowski tells parents. Opportunity looms. Instead of smothering our kids with love and telling them how they should act, we need to allow them space to evolve. "To us, it seems like science fiction, but to our kids, it's normal. We parents crave linear, but the future will be messy. Our kids will be creating jobs, not getting jobs. Anything is possible."

*To know more, read global management consultancy McKinsey's report, A labor market that works: Connecting talent with opportunity in the digital age, bit.ly/1HL2rcw To teach yourself or your kids coding, Abi recommends 'Scratch' (scratch.mit.edu) and 'Hour of Code' (hourofcode.com), and suggests you Google: Code.org, Start with Code, Code Kingdoms, Pencilcode and Groklearning. For families with iPads, she says to try an app, like ScratchJr, Hopscotch, Daisy the Dinosaur, Move the Turtle, or Cargo-Bot. ## Health and Safety: Superfoods

Are 'super foods' really so super? What foods should my children and I mostly eat?

The term 'super food' has no real medical meaning and is a relatively new term. It's been applied to some foods that are rich in particular vitamins and minerals, particularly some of the foods that have recently been introduced into the marketplace. There's no particular reason why these foods should be bought and eaten in preference of others, especially if they're not liked.

The basic principles still apply to the dietary needs of children. They need to be offered a wide variety of fresh, unprocessed or minimally processed food. All these foods have value and it's the balance of these within the child's eating plan that will help determine their relative nutritional value.

Dairy products or a suitable substitute are important for children. Small children need full fat rather than low-fat dairy products, as their nervous system requires fat to 'insulate' developing nerve fibres. This doesn't mean they should have a high-fat diet. The so-called 'super foods' have no unique qualities that cannot be found in a normal, well-balanced eating plan. While fresh juice is good occasionally, it can be loaded with fruit sugar, as often the juices are made of four or five pieces of fruit. It'd be preferable to have whole fruit to eat and water to drink.

Foods that are good to include in a child's eating plan are fish for protein and omega three, berries (strawberries, raspberries, blueberries, cranberries, acai and goji) for vitamins, fibre and antioxidants, and also oats for protein, fibre and B group vitamins.

The cruciferous vegetables (broccoli, cauliflower, cabbage, brussels sprouts, kale, bok choy, cabbage) are also rich in antioxidants, calcium and some iron. If your child can tolerate nuts, all nuts are full of protein and some have calcium and Vitamin E. Small amounts of good quality red meat three times a week is also a great source of iron and vitamins.

All of these foods are good to include in your child's diet, but not to the exclusion of other foods like bread, pasta, rice, eggs, poultry, cereals, tofu, pulses and the other fresh seasonal vegetables and fruit.

MAKE YOUR OWN NON-TOXIC CLEANERS

GLASS CLEANER | great for: Windows and mirrors
- 2 cups water
- ½-cup white or cider vinegar
- 1/4 cup rubbing alcohol (70% concentration)
- 1 to 2 drops of orange essential oil, which gives the solution a lovely smell (optional)

How to use: Combine ingredients and store in a spray bottle. Spray on a paper towel or soft cloth first, then on the glass. Hint: Don't clean windows on a hot, sunny day because the solution will dry too quickly and leave lots of streaks.

ALL-PURPOSE CLEANER AND DEODORIZER | Great for: Kitchen counters, appliances, and inside the refrigerator
- 4 tablespoons baking soda
- 1-quart warm water

How to use: Pour solution on a clean sponge and wipe.

DISINFECTANT
Great for: Bathrooms.
- 2 cups of water
- 3 tablespoons of liquid soap
- 20-30 drops of tea tree oil

How to use: Combine all ingredients and use as you would bleach.
To find more great non-toxic cleaning recipes go to greatist.com/health/27-chemical-free-products-diy-spring-cleaning

Fun with NUMERACY

Hopscotch - Materials: Chalk, beanbag

Activity: Hopscotch is a wonderful backyard game that children love. Draw your own game on your driveway or a safe area of asphalt or concrete using chalk. Write numbers very clearly inside the game squares to ensure your child can see them and recognise them easily.

The focus: Encourage your child to verbalise the number the beanbag lands on and count each step clearly. Count numbers forwards and backwards. Maybe try and jump just on the ODD numbers or EVEN numbers.

SOMEWHERE ELSE IN THE WORLD

3 FUN GAMES FROM AROUND THE WORLD: Teach your children about other cultures through play.

Sumatra: Semut, Orang, Gajah | Players: Two; ages 3 and up
The large Indonesian island is home to the Sumatran elephant, which has made its way into this kids' game, similar to the American "Rock, Paper, Scissors." Children play Semut, Orang, Gajah to determine the first player in a game or simply for fun.

How to Play: Players pump their fist up and down to the count of three. On four, they straighten their arm and give one of three signs: Pinky out is "ant" (semut), pointer finger out is "man" (orang), and thumb out is "elephant" (gajah). The elephant beats man because it is stronger; man defeats the ant because he can step on it and squash it. And the ant? It can crawl into the elephant's ear, bite him, and drive him crazy, so the ant beats the elephant. If players make the same signs, they go again. Two out of three wins.

Armenia: Egg Jousting | Players: Two; ages 3 and up
For American kids, egg hunts are a big part of the Easter celebration. Armenian children have a different tradition that pits hard-boiled egg against egg in a silly jousting competition.

What You'll Need: A colored hard-boiled egg for each player.
How to Play: Facing each other, the two players gently tap the small end of their eggs together until the end of one egg cracks. Next, they joust with the large end of their eggs. Hard-boiled eggs can withstand three to four "hits" before cracking, and maybe more depending on the tapping force. Mom testers say the two eggs do not crack at the same time; in all cases, only one of the eggs was destroyed. The cracked egg is given to the winner as a trophy, and then you can make egg-salad sandwiches for lunch!

Pakistan: Ounch Neech | Players: Four or more; ages 5 and up
Many cities in Pakistan are bustling places, full of vivid colors and lots of people. Given the chance to break out of the crowd, Pakistani children, much like American kids, love to laugh and shout their way through a rousing game of tag.

What You'll Need: An outdoors space with lots of obstacles like tree stumps, a slide, a swing, rocks, or sturdy benches.
How to Play: The game begins with one child as "It." He chooses either ounch (up) or neech (down). If he chooses neech, then the ground is not safe; runners can be tagged out unless they are ounch, up on something like a stump or a rock. The opposite is true as well: If "It" chooses ounch, then the ground is safe so everyone remains on terra firma. Of course, children quickly realize that it's boring to stay only in the safe zones. The first person tagged becomes "It" for the next round of the game.

KULIN BUSH RACES 2016

What more can be stacked against us, AFL Grandfinal and the weather but we remain undaunted.
The AFL have realised they can't compete, they have moved their fixturing back to traditional times .....
This is a short interim roundup of the Race Weekend. The committee / community will meet next week for a complete wrap up and a full report will be in the next Update.
The negatives which affected our weekend were the weather, an understatement if ever there was one and the AFL Grandfinal. Although the Eagles & Dockers failed to make an appearance, people still wish to have their Grandfinal functions.
The positives are the wind came from the west, protection was afforded to us by the rock, camping area not quite so lucky.
The Markets and Friday night was very well attended, the crowd enjoyed an excellent night of entertainment in the marquee.
Race Day went extremely smoothly with patrons being well catered for with heated marquee, big screen AFL, food and drink close at hand and entertainment on the track.

Attendee numbers were down significantly but those that braved the conditions had very positive comments about this tremendous event, the strength this community has and our ability to provide an event that appeals to all age groups.

Congratulations to all volunteers on your tireless efforts providing the visitors to our region with an entertainment experience that will bring them back to Kulin.

A Frosty Heartbreak

By David Charlesworth Narrogin Observer, republished in the Update with Narrogin Observer's permission.

Newly appointed WA Agriculture Minister Mark Lewis flew into Kulin last Friday to see the damage from recent frost events, which according to farmers has come at the worst possible time.

Mr Lewis visited the property of Sergio Lucchesi, along with Shire president Steve Martin and deputy president Rodney Duckworth to survey the damage.

Mr Lewis said he had looked at modelling from DAFWA before coming to Kulin and was surprised by the widespread damage.

"We were hoping it wouldn't be as big an impact, a million tonnes maybe, but I think that's probably likely to go up now from what I've seen and talking to some of these guys that are on the ground," he said.

"Which is unfortunate because we were in for a record year, 7.5 million tonne, and it's probably likely to not be that anymore."

Farm consultant Ben Whisson said some farmers would have between 40-60 per cent damage to their crops and millions of tonnes of grain would be lost Statewide.

“These eastern areas are going to be pretty well devastated and they’re going to have a lot of crops they’re going to have to harvest for very little yield,” he said.

“We’re estimating safely 1.5 million tonnes will be dropped off, two is pretty likely, three is possible.”

Mr Duckworth said he had serious damage to his cereal crops, estimated about 70 per cent, on his property further east, along with many other farmers further east in the Wheatbelt.

“As the further you come east of Kulin, it’s horrendous. They’ve just been absolutely smashed,” he said.

Mr Duckworth said while there had been other frost events in the past month, there had been three serious damaging events.

“There’s been more frost events than that, but the three bad ones in late September that affected the grain that was ripening and flowering, they’re the ones that have cost us big big dollars,” he said.

Mr Martin said the losses would be felt by regional communities as well.

“As farmers tend to do, as soon as they get money, they’re spending it in their local towns and machine dealers,” he said.

“It will flow onto those country towns, places like Narrogin and Katanning, the larger towns will feel it worse than the small ones probably.”

“A million tonne, that’s somewhere around $250 million out of the WA regional economy.” Mr Martin said it would be hard for the State Government to assist on the agricultural front, but it could with the communities hit by these losses.

“In 2010, we had a very bad drought in these parts and they did some community building through the local shires, so that’s something we’d be looking for a response for,” he said.

RV FRIENDLY FEEDBACK

We loved our stay here – the town is a credit to this community. Everyone was so friendly. We will be spreading the word about your wonderful stop. See you next time.

Thank you Kulin. We have travelled through central Queensland, NSW and down the WA coast over the last 4 months and without reservation would rate your town and facilities the best presented and maintained we have strayed in. congratulations to everyone – your local council, residents and business people. We absolutely loved seeing the Tin Horse artwork, and also are greatly impressed that the children's art in is displayed in your streets.

Many thanks for providing these excellent facilities as we travel through this part of WA.

Beautiful clean town which is obviously loved. RV park really special with gorgeous landscaping and perfect facilities. Well done people of Kulin. We have to come back.

Many thanks to the town of Kulin for this wonderful camp spot, have happily spent some time sightseeing and as requested we have spent some dosh in your little town. Caravan park, although we didn't stay in, is a credit to you, keep up the great work

Kulin is the best RV stop I have been at. The town is lovely and the people very friendly. Sandy Murray (a local) is my friend and she showed me around the sights. Could I suggest a survey form to leave at the RV stop to complete? Thank you Kulin for a great place to stay and your hospitality.

RV FRIENDLY FEEDBACK

A neat, clean and tidy town – will definitely recommend. Interesting reading about the Tin Horse highway and "plates" are you charity work. Enjoyable rest stop. Great facilities. There should be more places like this around the country for basic camping. A credit to the town – well done!

Thank you for a wonderful stop-over in your very progressive beautiful town. We didn't need many groceries as we were stocked up. You are all doing a fantastic job. Have a great weekend for you Races. I hope the weather is kind. Love your Tin Horse Highway.

To Kulin Shire,
We're an oversized motor home – 12m converted bus. According to wiki camps we don't fit in the caravan park. Stayed 1 night in the 72 hour rest stop. Used showers and dump point.
We are 2 adults and 2 children travelling around the country for 8 months. VERY much appreciate free facilities on a long weekend.

What a wonderful facility this town has provided for us self-sufficient travellers. Thank you so much for understanding that we only need somewhere to pull over legally for a short period of time. Caravan parks still have their place and we do stay in them when we need to do large amounts of washing. But other than that we are fully self-sufficient. We love to spend our money in town to help keep these little towns flourishing. The facilities here are first class and we will definitely spread the word to fellow travellers. Congratulations and a big "thank you".

ASHLEE RENAE HAIR STUDIO
Hi Everyone!
I would just like to take this opportunity to thank you all for the amazing support you have given my business over the last 3 years. The salon has been busier than I could ever had imagined, and I am certainly walking away feeling so blessed and proud of the things I've achieved in Kulin!
Other than my lovely locals I had clients travelling from Corrigin, Hyden, Lake Grace, Newdegate, Kondinin, Dumbleyung and other little surrounding towns. Those clients shopped locally at other businesses on their visits to the salon, which was fantastic!

The salon's last day open is the 28th of October and I am now fully booked but there is still a cancelation list. There are plenty of Shampoo, conditioner & Treatment packs available for $49.95 valued at $81.85 so get in quick!

Thank you all again, Jarrad and I are so excited for our next chapter as parents.

Australia Day WA presents the Citizen of the Year

Your local government invites you to nominate an outstanding individual or group for one of this year's Citizen of the Year Awards to be presented on Australia Day 26 January.

The awards foster, recognise and celebrate significant contributions to community life and active citizenship by local citizens in all local government areas of Western Australia.

Australia Day Awards promote national pride, community responsibility and participation.

Guidelines and criteria

Each year three local citizens and one local community group in each local government area will be eligible for recognition. The recipients will be selected from people and groups who have made a noteworthy contribution during the current year, or given outstanding service to the local community over a number of years through active involvement.

Nomination Process

Each local government calls for nominations from community groups and individuals. At the council's discretion, a committee comprised of people from community organisations and citizens, will be appointed to encourage and promote nominations. The committee or your local council may also make nominations based on local knowledge and experience.

Nominations open on 19 Sept 2016 and can be received in hard copy on the original nomination form or online at www.ausdaywa.com.au
Nominations close on 31 October 2016.
Nominations received after the closing date will be ineligible for this year's awards.

The four award categories

- Citizen of the Year Award
- Citizen of the Year Award – Youth (under 25 years)
- Senior Citizen of the Year Award – Senior (65 years or over)
- Active Citizenship Award (for a community group or event)

Selection Criteria

The winners will have been judged to have shown,

- Significant contribution to the local community.
- Demonstrated leadership on a community issue resulting in the enhancement of community life.
- A significant initiative which has brought about positive change and added value to community life.
- Inspiring qualities as a role model for the community.

Eligibility criteria

- Nominees should reside or work principally within the local authority making the award.
- Awards may be granted posthumously in recognition of recent achievements.
- Groups of people or couples will not normally be eligible except when meeting the criteria for a community group.
- A person may receive an award on more than one occasion in recognition of their particularly outstanding community contribution or involvement in an alternative initiative.
- Unsuccessful nominees may be nominated in future years.
- Nominations must be apolitical in their nature and should not in any way bring the awards program or local government area into disrepute.
- Sitting members of State, Federal and Local Government are not eligible.

Australia Day WA, through all of its awards programs, is keen to recognise those displaying the ideals of social justice, cultural diversity and acknowledging the importance that the reconciliation process plays in enabling people to feel valued and contribute more positively to society.

Bushfire Information

Burning Periods

We are now in the RESTRICTED burning period. This commenced on 19 September and goes through until 31 October (inclusive). Effectively this means that no burning can be carried out unless you have a permit from your local Fire Control Officer. The exception is burning rubbish and garden refuse after 6pm (needs to be extinguished by 11pm). Other conditions apply.

PROHIBITED burning will commence on 1 November through to 28 February during which time NO BURINING is to take place within the Shire of Kulin.

Brigade Contacts/Fire Control Officers

A flyer was mailed out last week with all the contact information for the 2016/17 season. This information is also available on Council's webpage www.kulin.wa.gov.au

Protective Clothing

There are some jackets and trousers (larger sizes) in stock at the Shire office for anyone that may require protective clothing and haven't received an order in the past. A duty of care exists for a Fire Control Officer to ensure that persons attending an incident has appropriate PPE (personal protective equipment), the same responsibility rests with those attending so please ensure you wear the required clothing, otherwise insurance issues may arise.

Michelle (Elle) Payne and Brian Bowey were married at Elle's parent's property at Gidgegannup on Saturday 8 October, 2016. Despite some wet weather, the lovely garden setting made a beautiful back drop for the wedding. Congratulations to Elle & Brian.

Handy Tip:

Difference between Westlink and Video Conferencing.
Westlink is a satellite TV system and require no internet or login.
All that is needed is an authorised satellite receiver, which we call a SatBox.

Video Conferencing (including Being There as used by the CRCs) is an internet based application.
It requires a computer, laptop, tablet or phone that is connected to the internet.
The quality and speed of your internet determines the quality of your video conference.

It is possible to just use the camera and mic on your device, but external cameras and mics deliver better results in most cases.

It is possible to take the HDMI output from a laptop and feed it into the same TV you view Westlink on.
Simply connect the HDMI out of the laptop to a spare HDMI input on the TV.
You may need to reduce the volume on the TV to stop feedback.

We suggest you place a label near TV designating which input is which on the TV.

Another idea is to print out instructions for each device, laminate and colour code and use the same colour code on the remote associated with the device.

Dr Heather MacGowan OAM Scholarship – 2016 round now open
The Dr Heather MacGowan Scholarship is an incredible opportunity for young sport and recreation personnel to carry out a project, research or initiative that will benefit the sport and recreation community in Western Australia for years to come.
The Department of Sport and Recreation recognises and pays tribute to the late Dr Heather MacGowan's life long work by granting one or more individuals all, or a share, of $10,000 to undertake their own project into an area that will benefit the individual, their organisation and the whole sport and recreation industry.
Persons working within the industry between the ages of 18 and 30 are encouraged to apply by following the guidelines to complete the application form.
Submission period closes 5pm 28 November 2016.

Waldron supports establishment of Rural Fire Service

Member for Wagin Terry Waldron MLA has welcomed last week's announcement that the State Government will support all 17 recommendations of the Special Inquiry into the January 2016 Waroona Fire, by Euan Ferguson AFSM.

Mr Waldron said many of the recommendations from the Ferguson Inquiry were already being implemented ahead of the 2016 bushfire season.

"It is important Western Australia is best placed to respond to fires which cause significant damage and destruction across regional WA," he said.

"Significantly, the State Government has agreed to adopt a recommendation to establish a Rural Fire Service. I've always been and will continue to be a strong supporter of our country fire services and that is why I strongly welcome this move."

"I also support the State Government's decision to consider the advantages and practicalities of establishing a Rural Fire Service. This is great news for regional WA," Mr Waldron said.

The views of a wide range of relevant community groups will be canvassed at a forum this year, including relevant agencies such as the Department of Parks and Wildlife and the Department of Fire and Emergency Services, local government, volunteer firefighters and the United Firefighters Unions of WA.

Work is also underway to address bushfire risk on Government-owned land which would be supported with an additional $15 million over four years from Royalties for Regions.

A key issue highlighted in the inquiry was the need for greater emphasis on the prevention and risk mitigation on Crown land.

Mr Waldron said the State Government had reacted quickly by allocating additional funding to this area ahead of the 2016-17 bushfire season.

"This increased funding will be available to State Government agencies responsible for, and adjacent to, regional townsites to ensure a more coordinated approach to risk mitigation on Crown land," he said.

Nationals WA candidate for Roe Peter Rundle said local knowledge, experience and expertise in fighting bushfires could mean the difference between maintaining a fire or it getting out of control.

"The State's volunteer firefighters do an incredible job, although the implementation of the additional service would ensure local skills and knowledge were better utilised," Mr Rundle said.

"WA has experienced several catastrophic fires in recent years, and we need to continue to improve our response to reduce the chances of this happening again."

Recommendations from the Ferguson Inquiry to be implemented prior to bushfire season, include –

- establishing five pre-formed multi agency incident management teams for level 3 incidents, which include representation from both Government and volunteers;
- installing Automated Vehicle Location Systems in vehicles and appliances at a cost of $2.4 million;
- establishing a $2.8 million critical messaging system by November 2016, which will issue warnings and provide advice on fire danger ratings and total fire bans. The information will be available on a new Emergency WA website to be promoted through the Are You Ready bushfire campaign; and
- issuing identification cards to DFES volunteers in high-risk regions.

The State Government has announced its intention to establish a new Office of Emergency Management (OEM), comprised of the State Emergency Management Committee Secretariat and the Office of Bushfire Risk Management.

There will also be an independent review into the Emergency Services Levy.

Mr Waldron said the State Government would continue to work as quickly as possible to enact measures from the recent inquiry, to ensure WA communities were better prepared and more resilient to emergencies in the future.

The Special Inquiry into the January 2016 Waroona Fire was tabled in State Parliament in June. To view the Waroona report visit - https://news.wa.gov.au/wp-content/uploads/2016/09/Government-response-to-Ferguson-Report-Online.pdf

Regional visitor centre grant recipients announced

Thirty-six regional communities are set to benefit from innovative projects at their local visitor centres, thanks to the latest round of the State Government's Regional Visitor Centre Sustainability Grant Program (RVCSGP).

The investment of $4.2 million over three years in the program is made possible by Tourism WA and Royalties for Regions.

Local MP Terry Waldron MLA said the program was helping visitor centres remain viable and adaptable in the changing tourism landscape.

"Visitor centres play a vital role in boosting regional tourism, employment and skills development," Mr Waldron said.

"Overall, visitor centres employ more than 900 local people and inject $117 million into the State's economy annually."

Mr Waldron said research showed that travellers tended to spend more time and money in an area when they used a visitor centre.

"Tourists spent $4.5 billion in regional Western Australia in 2015-16. By offering a warm welcome and a wealth of local knowledge, visitor centres play an integral role in this important industry," he said.

In the Wagin electorate, successful recipients of RVCSGP 2016-17 grants include –

- Dryandra Country Visitor Centre, in Narrogin
- Lake Grace Visitor Centre
- Shire of Kojonup; Kojonup Visitor Centre
- Shire of Kulin; Kulin Visitor Centre

During this round of grants, funding will go towards regional centres throughout the State for projects that include, implementing a new design and upgraded technology at Broome Visitor Centre; an internal fitout at Derby Visitor Centre to improve product displays; interior Aboriginal artwork and exterior seating for Halls Creek Visitor Centre; and new signage for the Kununurra Visitor Centre and Argyle Homestead Museum.

Mr Waldron said more than $1 million was available in the 2016-17 round to assist regional visitor centres throughout the State with sustainability initiatives such as accreditation, renewable energy, on-site attractions, technology and interior redesign.

The Kulin Quilters held a successful exhibition, craft stall and raffle on the Bush Races weekend. Even though numbers were down a cheque for $1500 has been sent to the RFDS. The quilt raffle was won by Lex and Graham, 2nd prize went to a couple from Tasmania who had only arrived in Kulin on the Sunday morning and spent a couple of days in the free camping. many of our visitors said how lucky we were to have such a lovely hall and were amazed it still had its original ceiling. Many thanks to all who supported us.

Juvenile Diabetes Research Foundation

Hi everyone, just letting you know that it's only two months until the annual JDRF ONE WALK. This year the walk is on the 23rd of October. It would be awesome to see you all at Sir James Mitchell Park to join in the walk with me to ultimately one day turn type one into type none.

Just a little bit of information about Type one diabetes:
Last year through the ONE WALK as a nation we raised over $900 000 for research into finding a cure for the 120 000 people like me who live with this terrible disease.
Through these funds and great support I am able to live a 'semi-normal' life again like the rest of you.

I would love you all to come along and join me in the walk this year. If you're also feeling super generous, please donate some of your hard earned money to this worthy cause and turn type one into type none. To donate, there is a link below or alternatively just scan the QR code.

Thanks again to everyone who makes my life just like yours!
