BIO

Chroma presents original compositions; a modern yet accessible sound with its roots in groove. As active students at Berklee College of Music, Chroma represents a movement of young musicians that emphasize melody and emotion in music. They have performed for Jaleel Shaw via the NPR Checkout Live Series and are featured on the Jazz Revelation Records 2013 release. Chroma's independent release, Pentameter, showcases their unique sound.

In addition to performing, Chroma places a high regard on education. In workshops and clinics, Chroma offers lessons on improvisation, ensemble playing, composition and business. They find it necessary to give back what they have learned to continue the aural tradition of music.
