

FAIZAL RAHMAN CURRICULUM VITAE

About

Faizal's expanded his passion in acting since in the promising year of 2008. Faizal has appeared in various Suria TV shows such as Nenek Ku Super Spy Upgrade, Art & El, Cinderella and more. He has also appeared in commercial like McDonald's (Man of the Match), Short film project "The Last In Line" and Channel 5 TV show "Police & Thief Season 6". He studied and graduated in Business & Management at BMC International College Singapore before realizing his course wasn't really his bag. Sigh...

Faizal is an avid and horrible soccer player. He also enjoys playing Call of Duty: Black Ops, photography, fishing and cooking. Like seriously? Cooking? Yes. Faizal once worked as a Cabin Crew so it's very likely you ever seen him at one point in your life and you hate his service. You're most welcome. He hates that job but he doesn't hate work. His favorite quotation "I am enough of an artist to draw freely upon my imagination." And he was inspired by veteran actor Matthew McConaughey.

Faizal acting began with a role in a love story "Romzi & Juleha". A love romance theatre show by Teater Kami Production and directed by well-known theatre director Atin Amat. Soon after, he landed his first television show "Grafiti 2" on Suria Channel followed by "Mentari 2" and on and on.

While contemplating further career work, he decided to pursue a more solid and challenging career and decided to become an actor. Never having formally studied theatre or acting but because of his belief in his sincerity, these what he says to himself;

"Passion taught me to pursue my glittery dreams, no matter how much I would stumble and fall in the process. Patience taught me brave through life diligently, conquer my fears and keep in faith that opportunity will arrive someday. Inspiration taught me that with every lesson I learn, there's so much more out there to be discovered. And I will keep learning and trying; I will take all the experience gained so far to enable myself to break through the invisible walls that have been hindering me all these while. I am more than willing to try. Blunt as I may be, I am however not that oblivious. It'll take more than just stereotyping and prejudice to ram down my burning interest in this field. Though it is all failed attempts on my part, to actually expand my talent and God-given skill, hey... a guy can dream right?"

Then he decided to give things a go. Till now, Faizal will be looking to put his knowledge and experience as he embarks on his acting journey. Hence, he requires opportunities. Some rare, refreshing chances to open him up to different ideas and ideals. It will be fraudulent for him to act as though he do not know how small Singapore's market is to actually make acting a career, but he'll be more than willing to try.

He's ready to show the world what he has got, and ready to face some constructive criticism. Ready to expose his shares of talent, to let mounts of viewers know that acting is not just about entertainment. It's about magic.
