Norville is positive she's got the 'Power'

Call her Dr. Deborah.

"Inside Edition" anchor Deborah Norville's new book, "Thank You Power," hits stores today, and Norville isn't ruling out taking the tome's self-help message to the small screen.

The book, using studies and personal stories, presents the theory that positive thought can help folks have better lives.

"Thank You Power' is an action-oriented endeavor," Norville said. "It's an exercise, the same way you get fit because you do your situps every day."

And look out, Dr. Phil.

"I've already got a show mapped out in my mind," Norville said. "I could easily take the information that's in there and turn it into a television show, a television series or a television special."
