BOOST TO CANCER RECOVERY

Introduction of Kosha Bolsters Protection Cover

July 7th, 2014- Los Angeles, CA - Bolsters, a cancer recovery component, can now be kept completely safe from bacteria, odor, and damage even without repeated and time-consuming cleanings. With Kosha covers, hospitals can use bolsters more frequently, safely, and effectively.

Cancer therapy and recovery are highly specialized activities, requiring tremendous amount of skill and patience from doctors, caregivers, and patients. Because of the delicate nature of the whole exercise, extreme care is taken to ensure the safety of patients and success of the procedure.

Bolsters, a critical component in cancer recovery, should be absolutely clean of bacteria and dirt while in use because the weakened immune system of cancer patients makes them very weak against any bacteria and dirt. However, cleaning of bolsters demands a huge investment of time and efforts, which makes it difficult for hospitals to frequently use this essential cancer recovery component.

To effectively deal with this problem, Kosha has introduced a cover for bolsters; the cover successfully secures bolsters from sweat and human induced bacteria, thus making it safe for repeated uses.

Kosha is a Sanskrit term; its English meaning is layer or sheath. A Kosha Bolster Cover is a combination of 2 layers. The first layer comprises of Kosha fabric; its water/sweat absorbing capacity is 3 to 4 times better than cotton, making it super absorbent, and it is a natural fiber, leading to consistent effectiveness against odor.

The 2nd layer in the cover is a sophisticated material; it is free of toxic chemicals and eco-friendly. In combination, these two layers provide a bacteria-resistant, odor-free, natural and safe solution for covering bolsters, thus doing away with the need to indulge in a tedious and time-consuming cleaning process. Most importantly, with the use of Kosha covers, there is a huge leap in the effectiveness of cancer recovery.

Kosha Bolsters Covers come from the manufactures of the highly successful Kosha fabric, the revolutionary material which has comprehensively defeated the problem of odor and the cleaning care in yoga mats, furniture covers, automotive interiors, and pet beds.

Kosha Bolsters Covers have a cardinal role to play in assisting in the recovery to cancer patients and in making the efforts of caregivers more worthwhile and less strenuous.
