Dr. Herbal's

Development

The formulae have been developed by Homoeopaths & Herbalists with a combined experience of over 30 years in Homoeopathic & Herbal Practice. All products manufactured are combinations of liquid herbal compounds which are formulated according to traditional herbalism, modern scientific research and the fine art of herbal compounding.

Manufacturing

All products are prepared according to precise Goods Manufacturing Practices and with individualised formulations or processes, which enable each herb to be extracted according to its own unique physical and biochemical characteristics.

This attention to detail produces a finished extract, which optimally represents the herb from which it was made. These extracts are very rich in aroma and taste & are bioactive compounds of the original herbs themselves.

The compounds are a blend of various liquid herbal extracts which are formulated to target and favourably support specific body systems and/or relevant health conditions.
