MAKING HISTORY
2016

Chiappa Firearms srl, Brescia, Italy

Chiappa Firearms USA, Ltd, Dayton, Ohio

It's through curiosity and love for challenges that we've always mapped our path at Chiappa Firearms.
There will always be another challenge to take on and we'll not be afraid to play the game.

A curious nature, a passion for firearms and a love for challenges have always guided our path at Chiappa Firearms. There will always be another challenge to take on and we'll not be afraid to play the game.

The history of the Chiappa Group began in 1958, when Ezechiele (Oscar) Chiappa opened his company and called it Armi Sport. Initially an artisanal workshop, the company has grown over the years to become an industrial group, still wholly owned by the Chiappa family.

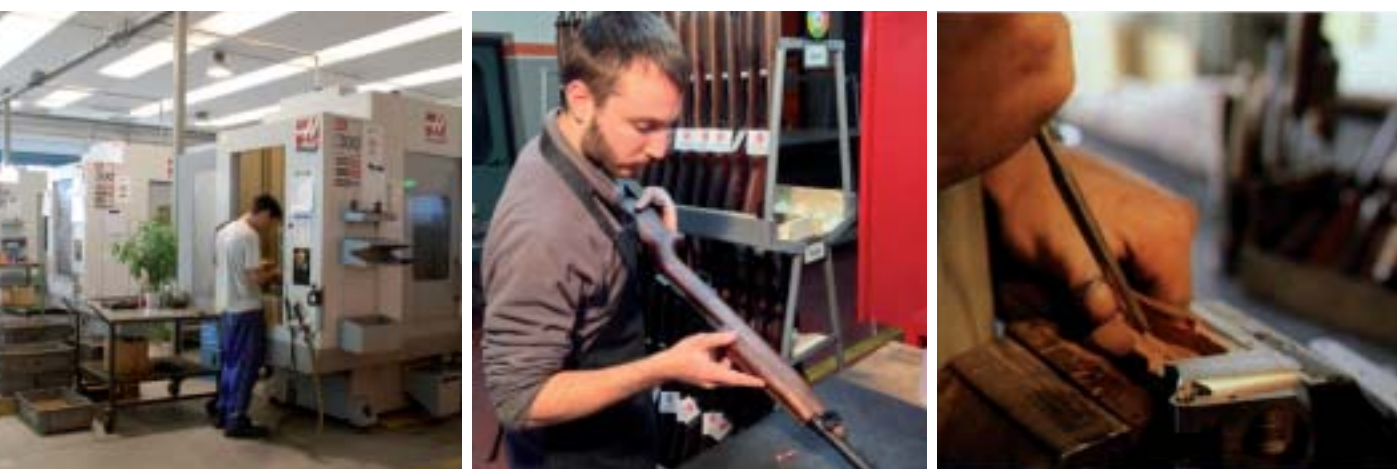

The Chiappa Group includes the companies Armi Sport (defense, sporting and replica firearms), KIMAR (small caliber and blank guns), ACP (training systems), Costa (surface treatment of metals) and Chiappa Firearms USA, Ltd. (USA distribution center). The success story of the Chiappa Group derives from a combination of factors, among which are a great technical experience matured over 60 years; ability, the courage and entrepreneurial spirit of the President Rino Chiappa, and the total dedication to work of the whole Chiappa family.

These capabilities have lead the Chiappa Group to a series of winning choices, focusing on technological advancement, on understanding and meeting the needs of the market while constantly introducing new models, but also offering accuracy and continued support to customers.

All stages of production are carried out entirely within the company. The manufacturing process begins with the design of the 3D model - the starting point - followed by the realization of prototypes and the transfer of data to CNC machines. Through specific CAM software, the machining equipment is able to produce any component in a very short time taking instructions directly from the 3D drawings.

THE CHIAPPA GROUP PIONEERS OF THE GUN WORLD

Order and organization are common to all factory departments: the workshop with numerical control machines (CNC) for the processing of components machined from solid steel such as receivers and breeches, or for the realization of all types of stocks and other small parts; manufacturing of barrels; die casting and molding of plastic material; ovens and equipment for heat treatment; surface treatment, such as bluing, parkerizing, nickel plating, as well as equipment for grinding and polishing of metal and wood components.

The entire manufacturing process is managed and coordinated by a computer system that encompasses all steps of production. This system allows for a thorough control of the execution time, thus keeping production costs tightly monitored. Finally, all firearms are visually inspected and test fired in the shooting range built inside the company before being brought to the packaging area. Thanks to the experience of the personnel, the tradition of artisan craftsmanship cohabits with a modern organization within the same factory, fostering maximum efficiency.

The Chiappa Group manufactures a wide range of models. The catalog includes replicas of American historic weapons and muzzleloaders, lever action shotguns and rifles, handguns and rifles in .17 and .22 rimfire, sporting and self defense handguns such as the famous Rhino, signal guns and air guns. As a direct result of the optimization of the manufacturing process, all Chiappa products are an excellent value. The Chiappa Group today is a rapidly developing, constantly evolving corporation. The great capacity to innovate with flexibility and dynamism, the wide range of products and the excellent value for the consumer have allowed the Chiappa Group to spread sales in 60 countries, being fully able to compete with the biggest companies in the world.

CHIAPPA LA322 RIFLE

The lever action .22lr is an American classic. Chiappa continues this legacy by using modern technology and materials to produce the LA322. This beautiful rimfire is as attractive as it is functional. Accurate, quick handling and rapid shooting, the LA322 embodies all the qualities that Americans want in a lever action rifle. A 3/8" dovetail is machined into the top of the receiver so optics are easily added for small game hunting or plinking. Another coveted feature is the take down design letting the shooter easily and quickly separate the buttstock from the action for easy transport and storage. Chiappa's LA322 is available in various models to suit any need or desire.

Further adding performance and function, the stocks are coated with Chiappa's black soft touch coating. This makes the stock easier to grip and protection from the elements. RHINO REVOLVER

For decades, revolvers have remained essentially unchanged. Some have grown in size, weight, caliber and power. Others have shrunk to be small, lightweight and concealable. But, if you compare a revolver from the 1920's to one made just last year there would be many more similarities than differences. The Chiappa Rhino is changing that. It is a complete paradigm shift in revolvers. Instead of merely being another evolutionary change, it truly is revolutionary.

The Rhino is the most innovative development in revolver technology in decades, if not since the creation of the revolver itself. Refusing to be constrained by tradition and previous design limitations, the Rhino has improvements that move the revolver forward into the 21st century. Unconventional in appearance and superior by performance, the Rhino fires from the bottom of the cylinder rather than the top. This dramatically reduces muzzle rise and recoil felt by lowering the axis of the bore almost to the palm of the shooters hand. An aluminum alloy frame and barrel shroud make the Rhino lightweight and easy to carry. Accessory rails on the bottom of the barrel shroud on the 4", 5" and 6" barrel models easily allow mounting lights or lasers. The 6" barrel models come with both rails on top and bottom to easily mount optics as well as lights or lasers. The snag resistant "hammer" is actually a cocking device because of the Rhino's innovative completely enclosed firing mechanism which can be fired either single or double action. A cocked indicator is clearly visible to indicate the internal hammer status. Another innovation is the hexagonal cylinder which keeps the revolver's width to a minimum. Available in 2", 4", 5" and 6" barrel models in black or stainless finishes, all Rhino revolvers feature an easy to see fiber optic front sight.

New for 2016, the Triple Crown is also available in the easy shooting 28 gauge. Waterfowl hunters who want the shooting and pointing characteristics of an over & under but want a third shot will love the Triple Magnum for the 3.5" chamber in RealTree® MAX-5 camo. Turkey hunters will love the Triple Tom, also with a 3.5" chamber and completely camouflaged in RealTree® XTRA GREEN. The Chiappa Triple Barrel has also been configured as an awesome home defense or survival shotgun. Compact 18.5" barrels and a removal buttstock for easy storage or use as a pistol grip make the Triple Threat portable, easy to maneuver in tight spaces and as potent as any gun around. Also new for 2016, the Triple Threat is available in 20 gauge. All Triple Barrel Shotguns benefit from interchangeable choke tubes letting the shooter have multiple pattern options as the shooting situation demands. Barrel firing sequence is right, left, top.

1887 SHOTGUNS

Designed by John M. Browning for the Winchester Repeating Arms Company, the 1887 lever action shotgun is considered to be the first successful repeating shotgun.

The Chiappa Firearms' 1887 is a faithful reproduction of this classic firearm. The 1887 utilizes the design of the original solid lever that includes an innovative internal safety. Featuring a European walnut stock and forearm and color case finished receivers, the 1887 is as beautiful as it is functional. Each shotgun comes with a bead front sight, except the Trophy Hunter model, and three choke tubes (Mare's Leg and T Model have a fixed modified choke).

1860 SPENCER

Designed by Christopher Miner Spencer, the Spencer rifle gained fame after being adopted by the Union Army during the American Civil War. A manually operated lever action fed from a tube magazine in the buttstock, the Spencer rifle was a vast improvement over the muzzleloading rifles being used during the war. Chiappa Firearms reproduction is manufactured from precision CNC parts precisely joined to beautiful, hand oiled walnut stocks. Color case finish receivers are joined to precision rifle barrels with a blued finish. Chiappa Firearms makes Spencer rifles in the original 56/50 or in the more easily obtained 45Colt.
