

Comparative Culturology

Spring 2017

1. Linguistic aspects of international communication.
2. Sociocultural aspects of international communication.
3. The Dialectics of Communication.
4. Main barriers on the way to communication.
5. Foreign language learning and teaching as the most productive and widely spread way of shattering barriers to international and intercultural communication: traditions. A view from Russia.
6. Foreign language learning and teaching as the most productive and widely spread way of shattering barriers to international and intercultural communication: innovations. A view from Russia.
7. National languages and cultures in the globalizing world. A view from Russia. Changes and challenges caused by the global English influence.
8. National languages and cultures in the globalizing world. A view from Russia. The positive influence of the Global English.
9. The Global English – A Global Problem...
10. National Languages and Cultures in the Modern World: Warriors for Peace or Threats to National Security?
11. From the Kremlin Wall to the Chinese Wall: A comparative study of anthropological cultures.