See what Monroe County teachers are saying about KIND News

"I use the KIND News for a weekly reading assessment, pleasure reading choice, discussions about fairness and care of animals, and for fun. My students love it." ~Janet Schell
Binford Elementary

"It is wonderful how the concepts are connected to animals. This is of high interest to the children and gets them willing to learn. However, each concept can be tied to personal relationships at school and beyond. It has been a valuable tool to use in the classroom."

~Kerry McGarry
University Elementary

"My students really look forward to their personal edition of the KIND News each month. They really like the feature articles about animals from other countries. The Adventure Ant antics are also very entertaining for my students. We focus on LifeSkills in our classroom and this publication helps us to see the value of respect for people and animals." ~Linda Foreshee
Templeton Elementary

"I've used the KIND News for several years now at 3 grade levels. My students have ALWAYS enjoyed the content and are eager to look through them whenever we receive them! Please keep them coming! :)"

~Alma Makurat
Lakeview Elementary

"It (KIND News) is a wonderful paper that covers a variety of topics. This year, I am using it with our Reading Buddies. Both age groups love it. Thank you so much for the work that you do."

~Lynn Foy
Childs Elementary

"Please include me in the continuation of KIND News. The kids in my class look forward to having their own newspaper. They love the high interest content and enjoy reading and discussing the articles aloud!"

~Marilyn Cobb
Arlington Heights Elementary
