Get a Fast Horse

Nan said, "You boys have a fast wagon train, but my horse can go as fast as the wagon train."

Nan said, "See my horse run home.

My horse is fast.

The wagon train you boys have is not as fast."

"The wagon train can go home fast, Nan," said Will and Bill.

"It can go as fast as the horse.

We guess that the wagon train can go home as fast as one, two."

"You boys can't go home as fast as one, two," said Nan, "but my horse can.

I guess my horse can go home fast and it is one fast horse.

Get a horse, boys. Get a fast horse."

"Look at my horse run," said Nan.

"I have a fast horse"

"We have a fast wagon train," said Will.

"Can Nan's horse go as fast as a wagon train?"

Bill said, "Put that horse down, Nan.

Will and I will take you for a ride.

You can ride fast on a wagon train."

Good Job!

Pam Reads a Book

Dan said, "Hello, Will. Hello, Pam. Come and play ball with us."

Pam said, "Not now, Dan. I want to read this book.

It is a girl's book.

Will can play with you boys."

Dan said, "Come on Pam.

Please don't read that book now.

You can read it at home."

"I can't read this book at home," said Pam. "This is not my book.

I have to read this book here, and I have to read fast."

Pam said, "Dan, help me read this book.

A girl dog in this book runs away. But it jumps on something and rides home. I want to know what it rides on."

"Oh, Pam," said Dan, "I can't help you now. I have to play ball with Will."

Pam said, "I want to know what this girl dog rides on."

"It rides on a train," said Mac.

Pam said, "Mac, can you read?"

"No," said Mac. "I can't read but my mom can. She read that book to me."

Good Job!

Rags Takes a Ride

Bill said, "Look there, Mac."

There is Jan's cat Rags in Jill's car.

Let's do something funny with the car."

Mac said," We will have to work fast.

We don't want Jill to see us."

Jill said, "My car. My car! I want my car. Rags don't take my car.

Please don't take it away, Rags."

Jan said, "Oh, Jill. Rags can't take the car away.

A cat can't take the car. Let's find out who did take it.

Come with me, Jill."

"You boys!" said Jill.

"Rags did not take my car.

You boys did and I know how you did it.

Please take Rags and go home now.

Let's see how you do that.

And boys, girls can guess what you did.

Girls know and girls can guess fast.

You boys don't know how fast girls can guess what you boys do."

Good Job!

Guess Who?

“Will,” said Dan, “Do you want to play animal guess?”

“What is animal guess?” said Will.

“We can guess what animal you are,” said Dan.

“Can Jan and Jill play animal guess, too?” asked Will.

“Yes,” said Dan, “Jan and Jill can play animal guess, too.”

“Can you guess my animal?” said Dan.

“My animal is not big. It can go fast. It can go hop, hop, hop.”

“I know,” said Jill. “Dan, you are a bunny. You are a big, funny bunny.”

“Yes, I am a bunny, Jill. What are you?”

Jill said, “I am big. I run and Rags runs. I can go fast and Rags runs away. Rags will not come to me. What animal am I?”

Jan said, “Jill, you are a dog.

You are Happy. Rags runs away and Happy runs, too.”

“What are you, Will?” said Jan.

“I am little,” said Will. “I can run fast. Rags is fast but I am fast, fast, fast. Happy is big and fast, but I can go faster. Rags wants to eat me.”

“I know what you are,” said Dan. “You are a rat! A cat wants a rat. You are a little rat.” “It is good to guess animals,” said Dan, Jan, Will and Jill. “We can guess animals.”

Good Job!

Nan Helps Mom Play Tag

Jan said, "One, two, three for Dan.
Now he is it."
Dan said, "Here are Mom and Dad.
Maybe they will play tag with us."
Jan said, "This wagon is Home.
You have to run fast here to get Home.
Don't let Dan tag you."
Dan said, "Now you all can go.
I will come and find you."
Away ran Dad and Nan.
Away ran Mom and Jan.
Dan went to look for Dad.
But Dad and Nan ran home.
One, two, three for me!" said Dad.
"And one, two, three for Nan."
Dan went to find Jan.
But she ran to the wagon.
"One, two, three for me!" she said.
Away went Dan to find Mom.
Nan said, "Run fast, Mom!
Run Home!
I will help you.
Here I come with the Home wagon."

Dan said, "Don't do that, Nan!
I know that you want to help Mom.
But that is not how we play tag."

Good Job!

Where Did It Go?

Jill said, "What a funny red cat!
Can we play with it?"
Jan said, "Yes, we can play with it.
But I don't want Happy to see it.
Happy likes to play with my animals.
He will take my red cat and run away with it."
"I like this little dog," said Jill.
"Can we play with it?"
Jan said, "Oh, yes, play with it.
I have a little horse, too.
I will get it out.
Then we can play with all three animals."
The girls did not see Dan.
They did not see what he did.
Dan got the red cat and ran away.
"Where is my red cat?" said Jan.
"I put it down there."
"I know it was there," said Jill.
"Did Happy come in and get it?"
"Maybe he was in here!" said Jan.
"Let's go out and look for Happy."
Then out went Jan and Jill.
Out they ran to find Happy and the red cat.

“Look up there!” said Jan.

“There is my red cat.”

“How did it get up there?” said Jill.

“How did it get up in the tree?”

“Who knows?” said Jill.

“I don’t know. But, I know Happy did not put that red cat up there.”

Good Job!

The Birthday

“Hello,” said Mac.

“Come in, come in.”

Bill said, “Here Mac. Jill and I have something for you.”

“Oh, thank you!” said Mac.

“Come on in the house.”

Jill said, “Happy birthday, Mac. This is for you.”

Then Dan said, “Hello, Mac.

Jan and I have something for you, too.

Happy birthday.”

Mac was a happy boy.

He said, “I like this little car.

I like the three animal books, too.

I read all the animal books I can get.

Thank you! Thank you!”

Mac’s mom said, “It is time to eat.

Will you all come in here now?”

“Oh, yes,” said the boys and girls.

Then they all went in to eat.

They all said, “Happy birthday to you.

Happy birthday to you. Happy birthday, dear Mac.

Happy birthday to you.”

Good Job!

A Pony Ride

Pam said, "Oh, no! Oh, dear!

See what Dad's car did to my horse."

"Dad did not see it," said Dan.

"He did not know that it was there."

"Oh, Pam," said Dad, "I did not see the horse."

"I want to ride my horse," said Pam.

Dad said, "Pam, let me take you to the park to ride a pony."

Pam was not happy.

"I want to ride my horse," she said.

"I don't want to ride a pony."

"Come on, Pam," said Dad.

"Get Mom and Jan.

They will want to see you ride a pony.

We can all have a good time."

At the park Dad said, "Pam, here is a pretty pony.

You can ride this white pony."

"No, no!" said Pam.

"Please don't put me on that pony."

Mom said, "Pam, please look at that white pony.

That white pony is a good one."

Pam said, "Let Jan ride the white pony.

I want to ride a black pony."

Dad said, "Where is a black pony?"

“There, there,” said Pam.

“There is a little black pony. I want to ride on it.”

“Good,” said Dad. “You can ride the black pony.

Jan and Dan will ride the white pony.

We will all have a good time.”

Good Job!

Look Out, Bill

Jan said, "I want to ride on that.

Do you want to go with me, Dan?"

"Yes," said Dan.

That looks like fun, but boy is it big.

"Let's have a ride on it, Jan."

Up, up they went.

Dan said, "Now, we can see all the park.

Look down there, Jan.

Do you see Jill?"

"Yes, I can see Jill," said Jan.

"I can see Bill, too."

"Hello, Bill. Hello, down there."

"Bill wants ice cream," said Dan.

"Mom will get ice cream for Bill."

Jan said, "Look out! Look out Dan.

The ice cream you have will fall.

Oh, it did fall."

"Look out, Bill." said Dan.

"Look out for my ice cream."

Jan said, "Oh no." "Oh, dear, oh dear. Dan, the ice cream is down on Bill." "Oh, dear," said Dan. "That is not the ice cream Bill wants."

Good Job!

Get a Duck

Jill said, "I like that duck.

Where did you get it, Mac?"

"I got it here in the park," said Mac.

"I hit the duck with a ball.

You can get one, too, but you will have to work for it."

Dad said, "Come on Jill.

I will get a duck for you.

I will hit the duck for you."

"I want the white duck," said Jill.

"Try to get that duck for me, Dad."

"I can try three times," said Dad.

"Maybe I can get the white duck.

One! Two! Three!"

"No white duck," said Jill.

"No duck at all."

"Dan, you try now," said Dad.

"Let's see what you can do."

"One!" said Dan.

"Two!" said Dan.

"No ducks," said Jill.

"Three," said Dan.

"No duck!" said Jill.

"No duck for me."

Jill was not happy.

She looked sad.

“Let’s let little Pam try,” said Dan.

“Maybe she can get the white duck.”

Dad said, “Maybe Pam can get the duck.

Go and try, Pam.”

“One!” said Pam.

“Oh, I got it! I got it. I got the white duck.”

“Yes, you did get that white duck, Pam,” said Dad.

“And you got it with one try.”

Good Job!
