Harvest House Collects Food To Help The Hungry

By Patricia Villers
October 17, 2015

More than 100,000 donated items were split among the Valley's food banks.

Students from Emmett O'Brien Technical High School in Ansonia built the "house."

Rev. Jim Tudesco of First Congregational Church Derby helps to stock the shelves

"In 2005, the food collected at Harvest House would last until Christmas. Not anymore.

"By 2013 we knew (food insecurity) was a serious problem."
Pat Tarasovic, United Way
