Erik Koepfel (b.1980)

Erik received his formal training from the Rhode Island School of Design followed by the New York Academy of Art, and an annual apprenticeship in Wiscasset, Maine with his professor and friend, Seaver Leslie. After copying extensively from the Italian Masters, he developed a body of work that has been exhibited and collected internationally, and represented across the United States. Koepfel's mastery of traditional techniques has led him to become one of very few young contemporary artists whose work is regularly exhibited with historic masters of the 19th and early 20th Centuries. He has hung beside Winslow Homer, Edgar Degas, John Frederick Kensett, William Hart, and Guy Wiggins, and has had the distinguished honor of entering many collections including artists of this caliber. American Artist, PleinAir Magazine, and other respected publications have covered his progress. Koepfel has taught at the Grand Central Academy's Hudson River Fellowship, and is the featured instructor on the DVD, Techniques of the Hudson River School Masters with Erik Koepfel.
