Background

Incorporated in 1930 in MI.

Founded in 1930 as an independent, private foundation by breakfast cereal pioneer, Will Keith Kellogg, the W.K. Kellogg Foundation (WKKF) is among the largest philanthropic foundations in the United States. Guided by the belief that all children should have an equal opportunity to thrive, WKKF works with communities to create conditions for vulnerable children so they can realize their full potential in school, work and life. The Kellogg Foundation is based in Battle Creek, Mich., and works throughout the United States and internationally, as well as with sovereign tribes. Special emphasis is paid to priority places where there are high concentrations of poverty and where children face significant barriers to success. WKKF priority places in the U.S. are in Michigan, Mississippi, New Mexico and New Orleans; and internationally, are in Mexico and Haiti. The grantmaker is a signatory to Philanthropy's Promise, an initiative of the National Committee for Responsive Philanthropy (NCRP). By signing on, the grantmaker has committed to allocating the majority of its grantmaking dollars to marginalized communities and at least 25 percent to social justice strategies, such as advocacy, community organizing, and civic engagement.

Limitations

Giving primarily in the U.S., with emphases on Michigan, Mississippi, New Mexico and New Orleans, LA, funding also for programs in Mexico, Haiti, northeastern Brazil and southern Africa.

No support for religious purposes or for capital facilities.

No grants to individuals (except for fellowship), or for scholarships, endowment funds, development campaigns, films, equipment, publications, conferences, or radio and television programs unless they are an integral part of a project already being funded; no grants for operating budgets.

Purpose and Activities

The W.K. Kellogg Foundation supports children, families, and communities as they strengthen and create conditions that propel vulnerable children to achieve success as individuals and as contributors to the larger community and society. The foundation's work is carried out by partners and programs that help it achieve its three organizational goals and embody its commitments to community and civic engagement, and to racial equity. The three goals are: 1) Educated kids: Success by third grade. Increase the number of children who are reading-and-math proficient by third grade; 2) Healthy Kids: Healthy birth weight and optimal development. Increase the number of children born at a healthy birth weight and who receive the care and healthy food they need for optimal development; and 3) Secure Families: Children and families at 200 percent above poverty. Increase the number of children and families living at least 200 percent above the poverty level.

Program Area(s)

The grantmaker has identified the following area(s) of interest:

Community and Civic Engagement

The foundation believes that people have an inherent capacity to solve their own problems and that social transformation is within reach for all communities. The foundation partners with those committed to increasing public and community participation in improving the lives of vulnerable children, families and communities. The foundation amplifies voices by supporting dialogue, leadership development and new models of organizing. It seeks to accelerate philanthropy that grows giving and promotes community-led innovation. And, WKKF is committed to help build a stronger, more effective and responsive nonprofit sector.

Community Leadership Network Fellowship

The fellowship targets individuals who can be transformative social change agents in their communities so that vulnerable children and their families can achieve optimal health and well-being, academic achievement and financial security. Embedded in this effort are the foundation's two approaches to all its work: community and civic engagement and racial equity and healing. Selected fellow will spend three years honing leadership skills and sharing their experiences with a cohort of developing leaders. A total of 100 fellows will be equitably selected from the foundation's U.S. priority places - Michigan, Mississippi, New Mexico and New Orleans - and will do their work from there. Another 20 fellows will be selected to function as a national cohort whose work will focus on racial healing and equity.

Education and Learning

All children need the support of parents, caretakers and the community to ensure their optimal development for success in school, work and life. WKKF partners with organizations focused on early childhood education to ensure that children arrive prepared and ready to learn in kindergarten and to achieve early success by the third grade. This work is accomplished through parental and family engagement; effective teaching; comprehensive bundled services where programs, practices, policies, partners, networks and systems are aligned to ensure effectiveness; and efforts to achieve racial equity in education and learning.

Employee Matching Gifts

The foundation matches gifts of all full-time employees, officers, trustees, and retired employees to eligible organizations having status as a public institution under Section 501(c)(3) and 509(a) of the Internal Revenue Code and foreign charitable organizations determined equivalent to a U.S. Section 501(c)(3) and 509(a) organization. This includes schools, government units, hospital or medical research facilities, religious organizations, and public-supported charities. Only direct gifts of cash or marketable securities to the charity by an eligible donor will be matched. The minimum gift is $25 and the maximum is $100,000 per eligible donor per calendar year. The maximum total corporate payout per employee, per year is $200,000. Gifts are matched on a two-to-one ratio. Contributions by the foundation may not be used to provide personal benefits to, or to discharge a pledge or other legal obligation of, the donor. Similarly, contributions by a donor that provide personal benefits to the donor or other person such as payments of tuition, membership dues, subscriptions, and other similar fees, are not eligible for matching grants by the foundation.

Family Economic Security

The foundation works to ensure that all families have opportunities to achieve economic security and provide stable environments for their children's optimal development. The foundation supports organizations and programs that: increase families' capability to accumulate and more effectively manage financial resources; align and strengthen industry employer training partnerships to create more quality jobs; and strengthen and integrate whole child and family support systems. The foundation recognizes that a family's primary needs must be addressed to create pathways out of poverty for children and support efforts that reduce inequities based on class, gender and race.

Food, Health and Well-Being

All children deserve good food, stimulation, nurturing and safe living environments and access to quality health care. The foundation helps children get a healthy start by supporting partners that: work to support mothers' and families' health throughout their lives; improve access to perinatal care systems and increase breastfeeding rates; and transform food systems so children and families gain more access to healthy foods in child care settings, schools and in their communities. Through grantmaking, policy and advocacy efforts, the foundation's focus is on the interrelated social determinants of health, especially for those disadvantaged by multiple societal factors, a disproportionate percentage of whom are children of color.

International

The foundation remains focused on supporting organizations and programs in Latin America, the Caribbean, northeastern Brazil and southern Africa that work to boost education and nutrition; reduce domestic violence and child abuse; increase community engagement and action; and build meaningful partnerships to propel vulnerable children and their families to success.

Priority Places

As a general guideline, the foundation allocates more than 90 percent of its funding each year to the United States. The foundation targets just over half of their budgeted domestic dollars to the following priority places: Michigan, Mississippi, New Mexico and New Orleans. The remaining domestic funds are spread across the U.S. in urban, suburban and rural communities.

Racial Equity

The foundation envisions a nation where Americans embrace our common humanity and children of every race and ethnicity have equal opportunities to thrive. The foundation seeks to remove structural barriers and to overcome unconscious bias to create equitable opportunities for all children. It supports community-based and national organizations whose innovative and effective programs foster racial healing, and through action-oriented research and public policy work, translate insights into new strategies and sustainable solutions.

Application Information

The foundation requires all proposals to be submitted online via its website. No funds directly to individuals. Funding is limited to the United States (with priority funding in Michigan, Mississippi, New Mexico and New Orleans), two micro-regions in southern Mexico and two micro-regions in Haiti. Unsolicited proposals are not currently being accepted for the southern Africa and northeastern Brazil. In general, it does not provide funding for operational phases of established programs, capital requests (which includes the construction, purchase, renovation, and/or furnishing of facilities), equipment, conferences and workshops, scholarships or tuition assistance, films, television and/or radio programs, endowments, development campaigns, or research/studies unless they are an integral part of a larger program budget being considered for funding.

Application form required.

Initial approach: Online submission is required. For additional questions, contact the Central Proposal Processing office at (269) 969-2329

Copies of proposal: 1

Board meeting date(s): Monthly

Deadline(s): None

Final notification: 45 days

Applications accepted in the following language(s): English, Portuguese, Spanish and Haitian Creole

Additional information: The foundation is primarily funding new and innovative systems/community change and early childhood learning and development programs to improve the lives of vulnerable children, ages 0-8. In addition to poverty, these children face at least one other compounding factor, such as race, ethnicity, or a household headed by a single mother. The foundation also has a small focus on asset development for the single mothers of these children to help lift their family to 200 percent above the current Health and Human Services poverty guidelines. A Frequently Asked Questions section on the foundation's web site can likewise answer many of the general questions you may have regarding the foundation and our funding process.

Background

Incorporated in 1945 in DE.

Mr. Raskob was vice-president of the DuPont Co. and chairman of the finance committee of General Motors Corp., but resigned that position in 1928 to serve as the chairman of the Democratic National Committee. In addition, Mr. Raskob organized the corporation that financed and built the Empire State Building, completed in 1931. The Raskob Foundation for Catholic Activities, Inc., is a membership corporation.

Limitations

Giving to domestic and international programs affiliated with the Roman Catholic church.

No grants to individuals, or for continuing support, annual campaigns, deficit financing (except missions), endowment funds, tuition, scholarships, fellowships, individual research, capital campaigns, building projects prior to the start or after the completion of construction, continuing subsidies, or requests that are after-the-fact by the time of the spring and fall trustee meetings.

Purpose and Activities

Giving to support Roman Catholic church organizations and activities worldwide by providing funds to official Catholic organizations for education, training, social services, health, emergency relief, as well as a wide variety of charitable needs.

Background

Established in 1977 in IL.

Limitations

Giving on a national and international basis.

No grants to individuals, or for advertising, fundraising drives, partisan/political/denominational programs, ongoing general and administrative costs (including salaries, travel, and overhead), intermediary funding agencies, endowment campaigns, or medical research.

Purpose and Activities

The organization creates, finds, and supports programs that directly improve the health and well being of children and their families around the world.

Program Area(s)

The grantmaker has identified the following area(s) of interest:

Awards of Excellence

These awards recognize individual efforts that have improved children's lives. The achievements of a physician who has made an outstanding contribution in the field of health care, and those of an individual who has done the same for the general well-being of children, are honored with a $100,000 grant to be given to the nonprofit children's organization identified by the recipient.

Grants

These grants focus on sustainable, replicable projects that include a train-the-trainer component in their pursuit of addressing the most pressing issues relating to children's health and well being. Grants will be awarded to stable, efficient U.S based organizations operating internationally or domestically with proven outcomes and strong partnerships with key stakeholders. Consideration will be given to organizations whose project methodology involves a comprehensive, ethnographic approach to their research, program development, program implementation, and evaluation.

Ronald McDonald Care Mobile Program

The program maintains a fleet of state-of-the-art vehicles that deliver cost-effective medical, dental, and education services directly to underserved children in their own neighborhoods. The vehicles are equipped with telemedicine capabilities that can transmit images and provide remote consultations, video conferencing, and medical/surgical follow-up. The vehicle accommodates two patient examination rooms, a laboratory, and a pharmacy. The mobile provides a number of medical and dental services, including primary care, specialty care, blood collection, diagnosis, treatment, referral, follow-up for serious medical conditions, health education, and federally-assisted health insurance program enrollment.

Ronald McDonald Family Room Program

These rooms provide a haven within the hospital for the families of children undergoing treatment. The family room serves as a place of respite for family members to step away from the stressful hospital environment. Designed to reflect a comfortable environment, many families use the family room to rest and reflect.

Ronald McDonald House Program

This program provides a 'home away from home' for families of seriously ill children receiving treatment at nearby hospitals. The house provides a comfortable, supportive lodging alternative for these families. It serves as a temporary residence near the medical facility where family members can sleep, eat, relax and find support from other families in similar situations. In return, families are asked to make a donation ranging on average from $5 to $20 per day, but if that isn't possible, their stay is free.

Scholarships

Scholarships to high school seniors who have demonstrated academic achievement, leadership, and community involvement. Eligible applicants must: live in an area where there is a participating local organization chapter; be younger than 21 years old; be eligible to attend a two- or four-year college or university with a full course of study; and be a legal U.S. resident. Scholarships are available through one of four channels: RMHC Scholars, RMHC/ASIA (Asian Students Increasing Achievement), RMHC/African-American Future Achievers, and RMHC/HACER.

Background

Established in 1976 in CA.

The foundation is a signatory to Philanthropy's Promise, and consequently, will be committing a significant percentage of their grantmaking dollars to meeting the needs of underserved communities, including the financial support of advocacy and civic engagement.

Limitations

Giving primarily on a national basis, with some international giving.

No support for universities or organizations with budgets exceeding $2 million.

No grants to individuals (except for honoraria), or for capital campaigns, endowments, or media projects.

Purpose and Activities

The foundation gives primarily in the areas of the environment and natural resources, international affairs, economic public policy and enterprise development, social justice, and community affairs.

Program Area(s)

The grantmaker has identified the following area(s) of interest:

Antonio Pizzigati Prize for Software in the Public Interest

This annual $10,000 award will honor a software developer whose work has made an outstanding contribution to the nonprofit community and ongoing efforts for social change. In addition to completing an application, each candidate must also be nominated by a peer within the public interest computing world or a leader in the nonprofit community who can speak to the personal qualities that contribute to that individual's leadership, as well as to the product the nominee developed.

California Wildlands Grassroots Fund

The fund supports grassroots activists and organizations that are protecting and restoring California's wild places. It targets small community-based organizations (annual budgets of less than $100,000) with grants to support an array of wildland and open space protection efforts, from scientific and legal research to grassroots organizing and advocacy, from participating in county general plan review to travel and printing expenses. Typical grant amounts range between $1,000 and $3,500, with a maximum of $5,000.

Death Penalty Mobilization Fund

This funding collaborative supports strategic collaborations of local, regional, or national nonprofits working to abolish the death penalty at the state and/or federal levels. Two-year grants, ranging from $40,000 to $80,000, will be given to state-based activist organizations working on death penalty reform, abolition, or moratoria efforts in the U.S. Grants can be used for expansion or enhancement of organizational and/or staff capacity, campaign development or implementation, infrastructure development necessary to implement or expand campaigns, public education, and direct and grassroots lobbying. Priority will be given to states where grants will make a significant contribution towards securing a concrete victory or strategic outcome.

Disability Rights Fund

This program of the foundation, a collaboration between donors and the disability community, works to advance the United Nations Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities (CRPD). To further this aim, grants will be made available to help strengthen the participation of disabled persons' organizations (DPOs) at country level in the global South and Eastern Europe/the former Soviet Union. Two types of grants will be awarded. Single organizations or partnership can apply for grants, ranging from $5,000 to $20,000, to build voice and visibility through more inclusive organizations or partnerships that increase DPO skill in addressing the CRPD; increase DPO participation in decision-making processes regarding the CRPD at state or local levels; and/or directly address implementation of CRPD articles. National DPO coalitions can apply for grants, ranging from $30,000 to $50,000, to work on ratification of the CRPD, passage of specific legislation to accord with the CRPD, or the production of a shadow report. Grants will provide one-year, project-specific support; cross-disability and other partnerships in-country are strongly encouraged, as are projects which address particularly marginalized sectors of the disability community. Visit <http://www.disabilityrightsfund.org> for more information and particular geographic foci.

Fund for Drug Policy Reform

This fund supports effort to change and shape drug policies through advocacy, community mobilization, and education. The fund seeks to broaden public and political support for drug policy reform and will fund strategic and innovative approaches to increase such support. All grantmaking will be directed to organizations working within the U.S., with particular emphasis on state-based activity.

HIV Young Leaders Fund

This fund supports youth-led (defined as being 30 years of age or younger) organizations and projects that work to address the needs of young people most-affected by HIV in their communities, including young people living with HIV. Funding will be given to organizations that support local, national, regional, or international HIV advocacy; local peer-based HIV services; and community mobilization.

Honor the Earth Native Communities Program

This program, a program of the foundation's Honor the Earth initiative, awards grants, ranging from $1,000 to $5,000, to protect land, water, ecosystems, and ways of life through forward-thinking initiatives grounded in indigenous wisdom. Grants will be given solely to organizations that are led and managed by Native peoples, and that are based in the U.S. and Canada; priority will be given to grassroots, community-based organizations and groups with a lack of access to federal and/or tribal funding resources. A portion of funding will be reserved to organizations that work to implement renewable energy and energy efficiency/weatherization improvements to advance Native community dignity, and create food security utilizing Indigenous varieties and organic production. See <http://www.honorearth.org/grantmaking> for more information.

Hurricane Voices Fund

This fund, established by MoveOn.org, supports efforts to amplify the voices of recent hurricane survivors as they speak out about the important issues of social and economic justice related to Hurricane Katrina.

Indigenous People's Fund

Grants, ranging from $15,000 to $40,000, are available to indigenous organizations with a focus on preserving and enhancing the rights, health, safety, and education of women and girls in native communities. Applications will be accepted from nonprofit organizations around the world; U.S.-based organizations must be able to present their IRS determination, while non-U.S.-

based organizations must provide government-issued documentation certifying that the organization is a non-governmental organization.

Jane Bagley Lehman Awards for Excellence in Public Advocacy

These awards recognize individuals who have exhibited a deep commitment to the public interest, and whose work demonstrates innovative approaches to social change. Ideal nominees should share their experiences and findings with as wide an audience as possible, and work to bridge the gap between those at the grassroots level and those who make policy. Recipients will be honored with a $10,000 grant. Self nominations are not accepted.

Mario Savio Young Activist Award

This award is presented to a young person (or persons) with a deep commitment to human rights and social justice, and a proven ability to transform this commitment into effective action. Applicants must: be between the ages of 16 and 26; be engaged in activism for social change, promoting the values of peace, human rights, economic/social justice, or freedom of express; act within the context of an organization, social movement, or larger community effort; and be considered an inspirational leader or motivating force by others in that context. Preference will be given to candidates who have not yet been widely recognized, and who do not have personal privilege or a strong institutional base of support. The award carries a cash prize of $6,000, to be split between the prize winner and his/her organization.

Moloka'i Environmental Protection Fund

Grants, ranging from $1,000 to $5,000, are awarded to organizations that protect Moloka'i's environment (particularly its ocean, land, and water resources) through restoration, pollution prevention, and reduction projects; and enhance the Moloka'i community's ability to achieve such protection through environmental advocacy, education, and access to legal services.

Money Well Spent

This initiative funds programs that help to ensure resources for family planning and reproductive health in sub-Saharan Africa are well-spent, and is targeted to provide support for work that will develop solutions that could have a considerable and measurable impact on the efficiency and effectiveness of family planning and reproductive health funding flows. Letters of interest may focus on work at the local, institutional, systemic, national, multi-country, international, or other levels.

Relief and Reconstruction Fund

The fund works to quickly and efficiently channel emergency relief in the aftermath of natural and civil disasters. The fund pools donors' resources to increase the impact of their giving, and researches and distributes funds to effective grassroots and advocacy organizations working for long-term economic, social, and structural change.

State Equality Fund

Awarded in conjunction with the Gil Foundation, the Evelyn and Walter Haas Jr. Fund, and the Arcus Foundation, this fund supports programs that work to further equal opportunity for people at the state and local levels (regardless of sexual orientation or gender identity and expression), and that focus on plans to achieve elements of equality in the form of policy change. Specifically, the fund supports one- to five-year statewide policy-change outcomes in the areas of nondiscrimination, relationship recognition, parenting rights, and safe schools; to a lesser extent, the fund will also consider one- to three-year local or incremental policy-change outcomes that help pave the way for later, broader statewide gains. Priority will be given to: state-based or local organizations with ongoing LGBT equality efforts; proposals that demonstrate meaningful collaboration with relevant organizations, including non-LGBT allies, and all other LGBT advocacy efforts in the state or locale; state efforts that have the greatest impact on the most number of people, especially those efforts that have regional or national significance or occur in states with few LGBT protections; efforts that effectively engage and include people of color and address racial disparities; efforts and projects that will leave the grantees with greater capacity to achieve further LGBT equality gains in the future; and efforts that show strong community buy-in, financial support, and long-term sustainability. Funding will generally range between $50,000 and $100,000.

Tides Shelter Fund

The fund supports organizations working across the U.S. to address the problem of homelessness.

Background

Founded in 1941 in IL.
Founded as Lutheran Sanitorium.

Limitations

Giving on a national and international basis.
No support for organizations with no significant involvement of Lutheran agencies or congregations.
No grants to individuals, or for deficit financing, capital funding, endowments, or ordinary ongoing operating expenses.

Purpose and Activities

The ministry provides start-up funds for health and healing projects for people of all ages throughout the world, and seeks to assist Lutheran congregations, judicatories, organizations, and other entities by providing seed money for new ministries that serve the whole person.

Program Area(s)

The grantmaker has identified the following area(s) of interest:

Burst Project Grants

These one-time grants, of up to $5,000, are available to human-care ministry projects designed and led by young adult leaders in the Lutheran community. In addition to the grant, participants will: receive professional consultation and feedback from ministry staff to assist in implementing an innovative and feasible project; be connected with a ministry mentor, when possible, to help guide the project; participate in a gathering of other project leaders, hosted by the ministry; and be promoted within the ministry community.

Congregation Health Ministry (CHM) Grant Program

These one-year grants of $2,000 each are available to help ministry leaders move inspired whole-person health-and-wellness ideas into action within congregations. Grants are open to Lutheran congregations committed to becoming centers of health and hope in their community; priority will be given to quality proposals focusing on ministry to returning military and their families.

GrantsPlus Program Grants

These grants, ranging from $5,000 to $50,000 over a period of two to three years, are available to support new and innovative health and human care programs led by congregations and nonprofit organizations affiliated with the Lutheran community.

Participants will be expected to participate in capacity-building activities offered by the ministry during the term of the grant, including webinars, convening events, workshops, or consultations.

Joshua Grants

Matching grants of up to $10,000, payable over two years, are available to health and human care projects within the Chicago metropolitan area that are new and innovative.

Ministry Sabbatical Grant Program

Matching grants of up to $7,500 are available to Lutheran congregations and clergy who are planning their first sabbatical experience (intended to support the whole person health of the ministry leader and congregation). Funds may be used to cover salary and benefits for additional staff, expenses related to the work of an interim staff member, and travel/education expenses for the sabbatical experience.

Background

Established in 1995 in VA.

Limitations

Giving on a national and international basis.

No support for religious or political organizations.

No grants for operating losses.

Purpose and Activities

The organization seeks to inspire and invest in teams of young people to design and launch their own lasting social ventures, enabling them to have the transformative experience of leading positive social change.

Program Area(s)

The grantmaker has identified the following area(s) of interest:

Basic Grants

The organization makes basic grants of up to $5,000 to assist in the social and economic development of Oregon's low-income communities and contribute to a broader understanding of ethnically and culturally diverse groups. Grants can be used for project costs, program costs, or operating support.

Dream It, Do It Challenge Grants

In conjunction with MTV Switch, this program works to encourage young people to submit creative ideas to help improve the environment. Applicants will be eligible for up to twenty-five seed funding awards of up to $1,000 each to make their ideas a reality. The best projects may be featured in a half-hour MTV documentary; five project leaders will also be awarded a trip to Boston, Massachusetts to take part in a roundtable discussion of climate change at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Eligible applicants must have formed a team with at least two other youth to qualify for grants; youth may be between the ages of 12 and 20 (if from North America or Europe) or 12 and 24 (if applying anywhere else in the world)

The Dr. Seuss Lorax Grants

In conjunction with Dr. Seuss Enterprises and Earth Island Institute, this program provides an opportunity for people ages 12-20 across the country to turn their dreams of saving the planet into a reality. Projects must be youth-created, -led, and -managed; be community-benefiting, based on criteria that is defined by the members of the team (a team must consist of at least two people, including a supportive adult who guides and encourages the team without taking control); and have a clear, attainable goal and budget. Successful applicants will receive up to $1,000 based on their demonstrated need - actual costs to start-up their venture.
