

EARTHQUAKE CLOUDS AND SHORT TERM PREDICTION

We have set up a new website

- July 30, 2008 -

Last month, an American interviewed me. I showed him my work with a PowerPoint and he asked me a number of detailed questions. I answered them all and gave him a CD-ROM of the PowerPoint and all my independent predictions, verified by the USGS for evaluation. As a result, he and I decided to set up a new website to try to better support my research:

www.earthquakesignals.com. We hope that scientists and people will support this new direction.

For various reasons, this website will not work anymore. Please go to www.earthquakesignals.com for news and information about our research..
