How would you like a homemade treat right from your oven that's easy to make, hassle free and filled with good for you ingredients? Step right up and grab any of the baking mixes from Among Friends.

"These taste just like my grandmother's cookies." That's what my husband said immediately after biting into Among friends chocolate chip cookie mix. I don't recall my grandmother making chocolate chip cookies, but if she did I bet they would taste this good too!

Darcy's Delish Old Fashioned Chocolate Chip Cookie Mix is easy to make and bakes up quick. Within 30 minutes you can have homemade, chocolate chip cookies that are dairy free and gluten free too. I followed the package directions but formed the cookies on the smaller side, more bite sized. This way, as my theory goes, we could eat more since they were small! And once again this mix from Among Friends did not last long in our house. The cookies were gone in about two days!

Among Friends was created by two friends who love to bake and wanted others to have fresh from the oven treats that were made with only the best ingredients. As the two gals say, "our Much beloved chocolate chip cookie is reminiscent of the "classic" with crispy edges and a soft middle and full of flavor."
