Ann Bisgyer Wolz Scholarship to the Fastener Training Institute

WIFI honors the memory of Ann Bisgyer Wolz, co-publisher of Fastener Industry News. She first worked in the fastener industry during high school for her stepfather, Eric Cohn, at Allied International. She later entered the trade show industry in New York City and returned to fasteners when she and spouse John Wolz acquired Fastener Industry News in 1994 where they shared co-publisher titles.

Sponsored by Andy Cohn/Duncan Bolt

This application is to be completed only by WIFI Members requesting financial assistance for instructional classes at the Fastener Training Institute.

Edith Cameron Scholarship to NIFMS Expo/Vegas

WIFI honors the memory of Edith Cameron, a pioneer in the fastener industry for 55 year. She was as devoted to her career in the industry as she was to her family and friends. She was a trailblazer in the industry for many years, and encouraged many women to excel in the fastener business.

Sponsored by Women in the Fastener Industry (WIFI)

This application is to be completed only by WIFI Members requesting financial assistance to attend the National Industrial Fastener & Mill Supply Expo in Las Vegas. Travel, accommodations and entrance to the show will be provided. The recipient must participate in the WIFI event and the show booth.
