

NATIONAL WEEKEND of PRAYER
To End Slavery and Trafficking
JANUARY 10-12, 2014

Dear Pastors and Leaders,

The National Weekend of Prayer to End Slavery and Trafficking is a three day weekend event and coincides with the Congressional appointed National Human Trafficking Awareness Day, Jan. 11. Our purpose is to bring awareness to the issues of Human Trafficking in America and inspire people of faith to stand unified in Prayer that leads to action. Over the course of the three days we have several events in which individuals, organizations and leaders such as yourself are welcome to participate in.

On Friday, January 10, 2014, we are inviting you to participate in one of our special events, Prayer for Local Government and Businesses. Centered around corporate prayer at a local government location such as City Hall, Courthouse, or Police Station, this is a time of focused prayer for those who are caught up in what is now the fastest growing criminal activity in the world, as well as for those who are dedicated to ending it. . Additionally we encourage Christian businesses and employees to spend time either before work or during the noon hour to also join in prayer. Businesses and trained employees are vital in our fight against Human Trafficking and can be extremely effective in recognizing potential trafficking victims and customers. With an industry that exceeds an estimated $32 Billion dollars in annual revenue, and an estimated 27 Million Slaves worldwide, Local Government and Businesses play a crucial role in combating this basic Human Rights issues.

We are looking for leaders, organizers and participants, and would be honored to have you join us and assist in promoting and participating during this time of prayer, as well as our other weekend events.

Please visit www.nwoprayer.org and fill out our participant form on the Weekend Events page. We believe leaders such as yourself are on the front lines of building a grassroots movement of modern day abolitionists, and as such we are honored to have you as part of this dynamic movement of prayer. We stand ready to encourage and empower you and other local organizations working towards the same goal of ending Modern Day Slavery in America.

Sincerely,

Nicholas Canuso
