

“We wont teach you how to live.
But we can try to teach you how how to drink proper”

Our Mission

Farm to shaker beverages

“The Still” blends time honored techniques, and the classic cocktails of the Prohibition Era, with modern innovations, all while using artisanal ingredients from local vendors.

You won’t find typical corporate brands of spirits at “The Still”.

We strive to embrace local distilleries, local produce, and other local ingredients.

What was once old and forgotten, will be new again.

Our love for the exceptional re-creation of Prohibition/Speakeasy style Cocktails is what sets us apart. When you walk up the stairs and enter “The Still” we want you to feel as if the last 100 years were only a dream. We want our guests to remember what they drank, just as much as what they ate. When you describe the libations we serve you, the words you use should be comparable to Sinful, Seductive, Nostalgic, and Inspiring.

So sit back, and take in the ambiance of the intimate space we have Created for you in historic Doylestown. Every drink has a story behind it. What’s your story? Maybe our Libations can help you tell it.....

The French “45”....13

Elements

Rowhouse Gin, Buckingham Valley Champagne,
Fresh Squeezed Lime Juice, and Homemade
Cucumber simple syrup

Our take on the classic Prohibition Cocktail
“The French 75” adds a Bucks County twist on the name by using only local ingredients.

History

Doylestown's origins date to 1745 when William Doyle obtained a license to build a tavern on what is now the northwest corner of Main and State Street, Known for years as "William Doyle's Tavern". By linking surrounding towns, this intersection was a staple in Bucks County, and the progression of trading in our area.

Josaia's Julep....15

Elements

Kinsey Bourbon, Fresh local farm raised muddled mint, local Raspberry simple syrup, Club soda, Hand crushed ice, and powdered sugar. Served in a Pewter Cup

This Staple spring/ summer Libation will be sure to freshen up your day. Take in the aroma of the fresh mint sprigs as you slowly sip our version of this hand crafted Classic.

History

Josaia Hart started as just a Cashier at the Doylestown bank. Although Hard work and intelligent investments eventually led him to opening one of the oldest banks and buildings in Historic Doylestown in 1857. The Josaia. Hart & Co. Bank at 21 N. Main st. was designed by Architect Thomas Cernea. He used a Greek Mythology style to design the Building and the 4 pillars that support the structure which still stands today.

Prohibitions Revenge15

Elements

Manatawny Still Works Small Batch aged Whiskey,
Fresh squeezed lemon juice, Rick's Farm fresh egg white,
House citrus simple syrup, and orange bitters.

History

Prohibition in the United States was a nationwide constitutional ban on the production, importation, transportation and sale of Alcohol that remained in place from 1920 to 1933. While the government tried their darnedest to keep libations away from the American people.....some of us wouldn't allow it. And in fact, this gave Baristas an even better reason to make every drink count. While the Whiskey Sour dates back to the mid 1800's, it was prohibition mixologists that really started having fun with this drink in the 1920's. So you might want to look over your shoulder while you're drinking "Prohibitions Revenge". For the Ghost of Eliot Ness, might just be watching.....

Hotel Nacional de Cuba....14

Elements

Rowhouse Funky Demon spice infused Rum, Apricot brandy, Fresh squeezed lime juice, Fresh squeezed Pineapple juice, and simple syrup.

History

In the late 1920's, while prohibition was at its strongest threshold, American gangsters were finding anyway possible to bring in alcohol from other countries. While Irish whiskey was a large trade, the backdoor dealings with Cuba became very popular. And Rum was the trade. More often than not the gangsters would travel to Cuba and meet with these Rum suppliers at "The Hotel Nacional de Cuba". One of the hotel's famed drinks was a version of this Pineapple concoction we serve here at "The Still". Many Gangsters brought the recipe back to the states along with the rum to be made and served at various speakeasy's. Close your eyes as you're drinking this one, as you can almost see Al Capone sipping it on a cuban Beach.....

The Fountain House Flip....15

Elements

Bluebird 4 Grain Bourbon, Rowhouse Le Coeur Noir Herbal Coffee Liquor, Rick's Farm Fresh Egg White, Fresh Squeezed Orange Juice, Clover Farms Cream, Wigle organic Molé Bitters.

The Classic "Flip" cocktail has many forms. But its overall purpose is to have our patron experience the frothiness first, and then gradually enjoy how the sugars and the Liquor combine for a smooth finish. Our Take on The Amaretto Flip will be sure to have you asking yourself..... "why am I cooking my eggs for breakfast, when i could be drinking them for pleasure"

History

Dating Back to 1758, The Fountain House Still stands as one of the original Structures in Historic Doylestown.

Constructed by William Doyle Himself, The Fountain House has hosted numerous Taverns over the years, although the building is most known for being a stagecoach line that connected Philadelphia to Easton.

The Fonthill Old Fashioned....15

Elements

Dad's Hat Rye Whiskey, Local farm Fresh Blackberries, Pennsylvania Maple Syrup, Blood orange, Wigle Organic Aromatic Bitters.

While one of the Founding Fathers of Bartending (Jerry Thomas) has a drink similar to "The Old Fashioned" using Gin, The Old Fashioned we know today is a staple of Whiskey Cocktails. "The Still" uses Bucks County's own Dad's Hat Rye Whiskey to mellow out the sweetness of our local blackberries, and Pennsylvania made maple syrup.

Henry Mercer himself would be proud of this one.

History

The Fonthill Castle, Located just on the edge of historic Doylestown Borough, was home to the American archeologist and tile maker Henry Chapman Mercer. Built between 1908 and 1912, it is an early example of poured-in-place Concrete and features 44 rooms, over 200 windows, 18 fireplaces and 10 bathrooms.

The Mechanics St. Mule....12

Elements

Boardroom Vodka, Ginger Beer, Buckingham Valley Honey, Local Mint, None Such Farms Basil, Fresh squeezed Lime juice. Served in a copper mug.

While sipping on this Refreshing elixir, you will experience the back notes of mint and basil on your lips and finish with the sweet and tartness of local honey and fresh squeezed lime juice. The Lansdale made Boardroom Vodka is just an added bonus to our take on this awesome classic cocktail.

History

The Mechanics St. Mule is a drink of opportunity. The kind of opportunity that comes when former Soviet Union refugees moved to Doylestown to start a new life. Years later, the sons started Boardroom Spirits distillery in Lansdale and created an exceptionally clean, pure, and smooth vodka. BOARDROOM Vodka is meant to be enjoyed as the Mamedovs have for many years..... with exceptional food and friends.

Doane's Gold....15

Elements

Cinnamon & vanilla infused Old Republic Dark Rum,
Muddled Bourbon Cherries, Pennsylvania Black Strap
molasses, Fresh squeezed lime juice, and Ginger Ale.
Cinnamon brown sugar rim.

History

A nice simple Quaker Family.....Not exactly what comes to mind when you think of the notorious "Doane Gang". The Doane outlaws were a group of Quaker brothers who were known for stealing horses from neighbors and the American army, and selling them to the french during the french revolution. Known as outlaws and bandits, they eventually started Robbing from Whig Tax collectors. Over the course of 20 years or so, the Doane gang is suspected to have stolen over 2 million dollars in gold. This gold was never found and is said to be hidden somewhere in Northern Bucks County along the Tohickon Creek. After a few servings of "Doanes Gold" at "The Still" you may just be inspired to do a little treasure hunting yourself.....
