

DIABETES EDUCATION, WELLNESS AND SUPPORT

Our mission is to help participants better manage their diabetes by focusing on positive patient outcomes anytime, anywhere, and on the go. dMeetings delivers a convenient, online education and wellness program that encourages and motivates people living with diabetes.

The Problem

Diabetes in our society today is growing at an alarming rate. With over 29 million people in the US alone currently living with diabetes and over 83 million people living with pre-diabetes, there is a critical need to help patients better understand and manage their condition.

- Cost of care: According to the CDC, $1 in every $5 total health care costs are attributed to people living with diabetes.
- According to the American Diabetes Association (ADA), patients engaged with online Diabetes Self-Management Education (DSME) show beneficial effects in reducing their HbA1c.

Studies clearly show better patient education leads to reduced health care costs and increased productivity. Ongoing training significantly curbs these costs.

- Through online DSME, patients achieve greater decreases in A1c at 6 months compared to patients receiving only usual care. JAMIA, 2013.

“Ongoing education, wellness and support are an important part of managing your diabetes”

Diabetes education leads to lower A1c levels. A sustained reduction in A1c levels among adults with diabetes is associated with significant health care savings. This improvement is even more marked in people with long-term diabetes-related complications.
