What people are saying:

Jeanette is a wonderfully engaging speaker. It was a pleasure to hear her speak on color and design. I was pleasantly surprised by the insight she gave me on how powerful color is in our lives and learned a lot about the many different ways color effects our lives. As a speaker Jeanette has the wonderful gift of holding the rooms attention throughout the whole presentation. Her passion for color and changing and improving people's lives truly shines through. She speaks from the heart and is a complete professional to work with. -

Carol Ozer

Jeanette's talk was insightful and taught me that color is more than just a design element. It is a tool that can influence our mood and lifestyle. I found myself looking around at the color in my environment and being more aware of how it made me feel and what I was drawn to. It was fascinating to learn how people's gravitation toward particular colors was indicative of their personality type.- Kim Cabanting

Jeanette is a warm, funny, and engaging speaker. Her lecture is interactive so she really draws you in and leaves you wanting more information. She definitely knows a thing or two about color. - Nicole Miller

Jeanette believes in the transformational power of design and color. Jeanette draws inspiration from the homeowners' lifestyle, taste and experiences and also attunes herself to the house itself. This unique combination creates individualized design from a soulful place that brings out the best visually, for her clients and their environment.

Jeanette has inspired students at Citrus College in Glendora, the University of California at Riverside, and Mt. San Antonio College in Walnut as an instructor. Her work has been featured in Arts and Crafts Home Magazine and she is the author of "What's Color Got to Do With It?" published in 2011.
