Android 4.2 Media Box with 1GHz Dual Core CPU, 1GB RAM and 4GB internal memory, as well as Miracast and DLNA access. Android is already on our phone and tablets and from now on also on our TV.

The “Next” Android TV Box will change the way you interact with your TV forever. Just plug it in and watch your TV transform into an Android powered Smart TV! Stream movies, pictures and music to your TV from your phone, PC or tablet, watch YouTube, Play games, Tweet, Facebook and so much more! As a first for Android TV boxes, the "Next" comes with Miracast which is similar to Apple's Airplay which allows you to share your screen with other Miracast enabled devices for great sharing possibilities. Also featuring DLNA, you'll be able to connect your DNLA compatible devices in just a few seconds and wireless stream content to and from the “Next” TV Box. Goodbye annoying cables!

Clocking at 1GHz, the “Next's” Dual Core Processor delivers more than enough power to run all your favorite apps, multitask style and add 1GB of RAM to the mix and you get one hell of a fast TV box! Want to watch a movie, or listen to some of your own music? No problem, just connect your external hard drive or USB stick to the “Next” and you're good to go. Or just wireless stream your multimedia to the TV box. The “Next” even supports subtitle playback!

Did we mention the “Next” runs on Android’s latest OS, Android 4.2? Taking the speed and simplicity of Jelly Bean to a different level, this Android Media Player is faster, smoother and better than ever before. Multiple User Interface? Check! Project Butter? Check! Well stocked Google Play store? Double Check! So what are you waiting for, get this red hot Android media player today!

Smart TVs cost thousands of dollars, why would you spend that kind of money if you can transform your regular TV into a Smart TV with this TV Box? Is stock now, the “Next” is brought to you by the leader in wholesale Android TV boxes, Anna Morris Memory Lane.
