CIVIC MARSHAL

Sherri S. Lightner
Council President District 1

Sherri Lightner currently serves as Council President for the City of San Diego. She is the first female engineer to serve on the City Council, and the first female Council President. She has served as the Councilmember for District 1 in the City of San Diego since December, 2008.

Sherri's current priorities as Council President include economic development, and expanding the tech, cyber-tech and blue tech industries in San Diego, and working on the City's Water Policy to develop an affordable and sustainable water supply. She promotes STEM education and closing the job skills gap, and updating the City's Charter to make it work better for both our citizens and city departments. Sherri's additional priorities include addressing the City's infrastructure issues and restoring essential services such as police, fire, libraries and park and recreation hours.

Prior to being elected, Sherri was a tireless and effective community volunteer and leader, serving on multiple community planning organizations and committees. She has served as President of both the La Jolla Town Council (LJTC) and La Jolla Shores Association (LJSA), and as the Secretary of the La Jolla Community Planning Association (LJCPA). Over the years, Sherri has become a knowledgeable expert in the planning and development process, the application (and abuse) of the San Diego Land Development Code, the applicable sections of the San Diego Municipal Code relating to community planning and development, and the California Environmental Quality and Coastal Acts (CEQA).

Sherri graduated from the University of California at San Diego (UC San Diego), first with a B.A. degree in both Mathematics and Sociology, and later with a M.S. degree in Applied Mechanics and Engineering Sciences. She is a licensed Professional Mechanical Engineer. She worked in private industry for 23 years; 18 years at General Atomics and 5 years at Rohr Industries. After "retiring" from the engineering profession, she formed a small consulting business with her husband. She and her husband have lived in Council District 1 in La Jolla Shores for over 23 years.

TRADITIONAL MARSHAL

WindanSea Club Shack – 70 years' young

Hans Newman's early memories of The Shack

I attended La Jolla Elementary, Muirlands Junior High and LJHS, class of '73. I got my Ecology Badge while an Explorer Scout (La Jolla Troop 4) in 1969 replanting Torrey Pine trees with Ranger Ray Guisewite after the '68 fire. We had moved down near Big Rock in 1965 (where my mother Ruth Hansen still resides) and I got involved with WindanSea and the Shack that summer. When I got out of Cal, while managing Su Casa (off and on from 1979-2005) I helped resurrect the WindanSea Surf Club in 1981 and served as President for 4 terms. I got really involved at the local beach, surf contests, clean-ups etc. and helped maintain the Shack for many years. During that time (news article 1986) I realized the fragility of the actual structure and how historical it was (long story for another time). I had my cartographer friend, David Coy, do a set of blueprints in 1986, with all original dimensions and compass orientation, in case it ever went down. The plans came in handy! Later on, encouraged by Melinda Merryweather and aided by architect Tony Ciani I made a presentation to the San Diego Historical Site Board. The historical status was passed unanimously with the stipulation that we must maintain the Shack, which the beach community had already done for over 50 years by that time, 1998. I was instrumental getting Friends of WindanSea its first major contribution from the late Betty Coggan and her family, which built two sets of beach access stairs near Big Rock and another near Neptune and Rosemont. I was elected to the La Jolla Town Council in 2002 working on Parks and Beaches. We moved to Atascadero to raise our family in '05, but I remain active at WindanSea.

My father is, of course, Dr. Wm A. Newman, Professor Emeritus at Scripps, resides in La Jolla with his wife Lynn Kennedy Newman. My younger brother, Dr. James H. Newman, Astronaut (Ret.) is a former Parade Marshal himself. I drove Melinda in my Woodie last year and have participated many, many times over the years from Scouts, the Surf Club, to staging cars with LJTC! It's an honor to participate again.
