TABB Group Promotes Anthony J. Perrotta, Jr. and Andy Nybo to Partner, Global Co-Heads of Research and Consulting

NEW YORK & LONDON, August 25, 2015 – TABB Group announced today that Anthony J. Perrotta, Jr. and Andy Nybo have been promoted to partner, global heads of research and consulting. According to Larry Tabb, founder and CEO, TABB Group, they have been appointed to the financial markets research and consulting firm’s executive management committee.

Mr. Perrotta is now directing all aspects of the firm’s client management, business development, and research content development. Mr. Nybo is directing all aspects of TABB’s research activities including equities, listed derivatives, fixed income and technology.

“As the financial industry continues undergoing significant regulatory reform, market structure changes and business model adaptation,” says Tabb, “we wanted to forge even stronger relationships with our banking, institutional investor, exchange and IT vendor clients. Anthony and Andy are bringing greater structure to our research program and enhancing the quality of our international research, analytics and advisory services.”

Andy Nybo

Andy Nybo has been with TABB Group for over nine years, joining the firm in 2006 as a senior analyst initially covering the OTC and derivatives markets.

Promoted to principal and head of derivatives in March 2009, he has more than 25 years of experience in research and technology applications in global capital markets.

He is responsible for research and consulting services across all listed derivatives markets, focusing his efforts on how regulation, technology and shifting investor behavior are impacting market structure in the global financial markets.

In February 2015, he was named to the Board of Governors of the Security Traders Association and appointed chair of its Options Committee.

Prior to TABB, he led marketing and communications at MarketAxess Corporation, managing media relations during its IPO in 2004. Prior to MarketAxess, he was a senior analyst with TowerGroup.

Earlier in his career, he was vice president, director of research at The Bond Market Association, now SIFMA, responsible for all aspects of their fixed income market research activities.

Anthony Perrotta

A 25-year veteran of the fixed income markets, Anthony Perrotta joined TABB in June 2014 as head of fixed income research, serving institutional investors from all fixed-income disciplines, focusing on market structure, regulatory reform, trading, technology, business models, compliance, central clearing, market data and operational issues impacting government bond, corporate bond, OTC swaps and other derivative, municipal, short-term securities and mortgage-backed securities markets in the US, Europe and Asia.

He was previously head of credit product trading and co-head of derivatives product trading at Tradeweb Markets after serving as head of both dealer relationship management and the DealerAxess trading unit at MarketAxess, overseeing construction of the liquidity pool and managing their primary e-trading business.

His background includes leverage fund sales management at Barclays Capital in Asia and overseeing the structured trading product group at Lehman Brothers as senior director in New York and Asia.

He began his career at Morgan Stanley.
