

Science and Religion” Panel by The Dialog Institute of the Southwest

The Dialog Institute of the Southwest in collaboration with Ecumenical Campus Ministries and Intercultural and Interfaith Dialog Student Association organized a panel on “Science and Religion” on November 4, 2013 at Ecumenical Campus Ministries. Panelists of the event included Dawn Fallik, Professor of Journalism; Dr. Terry Riordan, City Commissioner, City of Lawrence; Rev. Dr. Mark Rich, Trinity Lutheran Church; and Dr. Abdulbaki Agbas, Professor of Biochemistry, Kansas City University of Medicine and Biosciences.

Do science and religion conflict or can they co-exist? Do they compete or complement one another? Do they disprove or support one another? These and some other questions were discussed during the panel.

Snapshot:

