

FMR 2015

Fastmyles Racing Team Sponsorship Program

My name is Myles Morgan. I am the founder of the Fast Myles Racing Team (FMR), a little venture I put together with my Sister and my Dad to help myself, and friends I've made through karting, develop our marketing skills.

We formed the Fast Myles Racing Team two years ago with some friends from the track. This was an opportunity for several of us — with less money than the others we may compete against — to share tips, push each other on and have more fun. We created a Website, a Facebook Fan page, and a couple of Twitter accounts and a YouTube Channel to help promote the team, and future sponsors. It is our intention to use all those marketing channels to benefit our sponsors and create a fan base for team FMR drivers as we continue to work on making racing our careers.

Team Member Bios.

Logan Ploder (centre), our star driver, won both the Sunday series and the overall CRKC Championship in 2014. Now entering his fourth year of driving, Logan's breakthrough came when his confidence, experience and talent all come together making him the driver to beat every weekend. Logan was granted an Intrepid Team Scholarship ride for the TRAK series in 2015, and we expect him to push the team to greater results this year. Logan is looking to repeat his championship domination in the CRKC and for a top 10 finish in the TRAK series. Logan is a fan of NASCAR.

Myles Morgan (left), The team founder and entrepreneur is 11 and still in the early development years of what we hope will be a successful racing career. 2015 will be his fourth year competing in the CRKC (Canadian Rookie Karting Championship), and his first racing in the TRAK series where he won a scholarship slot along-side teammate Logan. In 2014, Myles was on the podium 11 out of 12 races, and placed 3rd in the Sunday race series I race and 12th overall in the CRKC. This year, with a more patient and relaxed attitude, Myles has set a goal of a top three season finish in the CRKC and a top 12 in the TRAK series. Myles is a fan of F1 and IndyCar.

Jayden Elphage (right), Like the rest of the team, Jayden has been a fan of cars and racing for as long as he can remember. The second he's awake on the weekends, he gets his milk & cookies, climbs into his homemade racing seat in front of his computer, then tears up a F1 track or goes rally racing. Diagnosed with Autism, Jayden shows intense focus and serious talent at the track, placing second in the CRKC Sunday series in 2014 and 5th overall. In spite of an Intrepid Scholarship offer, Jayden was unable to fund his entry in the TRAK series in 2015, so he will be back in the CRKC looking to take the top spot overall. Jayden watches NASCAR and F1, and is a Vettel and Alonso fan.

Dylan Bellamy (not shown), our youngest driver at 9, is also the smallest. Having nearly drowned in his racing suit when he began two years ago, he continues to show serious burst of speed and the ability to learn from his mistakes quickly. He returns this year as a seasoned veteran, ready to join the team on the podium and prove himself with a top 10 finish in the CRKC. Dylan is a fan of IndyCar.

The Opportunity

In 2015, FMR will be competing in two series. We will be returning to the Canadian Rookie Karting Championship and competing in the TRAK series.

CRKC, is for those not yet able to fund a personal go-kart program and in 2014, it split 97 drivers over 7 days of the week on a biweekly schedule in pro-level Intrepid rental carts. The series is run at Goodwood Kartways, “a multiple configuration karting centre located just north of Stouffville, Ontario, Canada. The facility spans 20 acres of land and features one kilometer of racing surface with a 10-turn road course.” This track is famous as a training ground for Paul Tracy, James Hinchcliff, and Ron Fellows.

All four of our drivers will be competing in the crowded Sunday event simply because of distance and other commitments. Unfortunately that does result in less seat time than any other day of the week. This has also limited our ability to put in additional practice in the past, something we hope sponsorship will allow us to do more of this year in an effort to be more consistent and competitive.

Two of our drivers, CRKC Champion Logan Ploder, and frequent podium visitor Myles Morgan will be competing as part of the Intrepid Canada Team in the TRAK series which in addition to being also held at Goodwood, runs at Mosport.

When the team is not driving karts, they spend their time off-track studying ways to improve their performance by watching racing, playing racing games, and — when no one is watching — helping their Dad's drive their cars in parking lots and remote roadways.

As a group of young racing drivers, fully connected with the interests of kids their age beyond just racing, Team FMR offers sponsors a unique and enticing sponsorship opportunity. It should also be stated that youth go-karting is very much a family event, and sponsors will enjoy exposure to Mom's and Dad's as much as the rabid racing fan. This is a monied, and brand loyal audience for any advertiser. Studies conducted in California show this audience is three times as likely to try and purchase racing sponsor's products and services and will actively seek out and patronize sponsors of racing organizations.

Please take a little time to review the below sponsorship information to see the many ways we will both benefit from a sponsorship package with your company.

How This Sponsorship Will Benefit You and Your Business

A go-kart sponsorship is more than just a rolling billboard, in fact with the rental karts we are driving as part of the CRKC, the one place where your logo won't appear is on the karts themselves. What you do get is:

- Young drivers who can help network and promote your business
- Exposure for your business
- Exposure on a racing suit, support vehicle (usually the family Van)
- Website, Facebook and Twitter exposure
- Exposure on Jalopnik, F1 and NASCAR forums, and other sites in which the drivers participate
- Advertising tax write-offs
- Can be utilized to improve employee morale – it will definitely be fun for you and your employees and families to become involved in
- Opportunity to get as involved with the racing team as you would like

You may think providing racing sponsorship is simply too expensive. Not true! You determine how you would like to provide assistance to the race team – there are many different forms of sponsorship and it does not have to include financial support.

We realize the importance of supporting sponsors through many different methods and are always willing to discuss various ways that we can make this relationship even more beneficial to you.

At the heart of modern marketing is the need to create a heart/mind connection between products and their spokesman. By using the emotional power of a personality, a sport or an event, a sponsor will create a strong tie between his brand and the consumer fans. What is more “emotional” than supporting young kids’ dreams, and helping them achieve them?

Fast Myles Racing is not a business, nor are we looking to make a profit. we are simply trying to learn the business side of racing, while we offset costs of competing and work toward owning our own competitive racing karts in the next two years. Some costs we are looking to recuperate are membership fees, entry fees, transportation costs, training time, rentals, food, equipment replacement and upgrades, the year-end gala and reinvesting for the following year.
