

CENTRAL MICHIGAN DISTRICT HEALTH DEPARTMENT

SAFE FOOD WORKER CLASS

The Central Michigan District Health Department (CMDHD) is pleased to be able to continue to offer a Safe Food Worker training class. The Safe Food Worker class is a service for new food workers, current food workers of restaurants, convenience stores, delis and other food preparation facilities, or those who are planning on becoming employed in these types of facilities. The course will offer the basics of food safety. Classes are being held in each of our branch offices monthly or ask us about bringing a class to your location. Each class will be approximately two hours and will provide attendees with the tools they need to be a Safe Food Worker.

Anyone desiring basic food safety training (without needing to become certified through the SERV-SAFE program for managers) should take the Safe Food Worker course. For more information, call your local CMDHD Environmental Health branch office at the locations listed on the attached registration form.

Safe Food Worker Course

- Covers the major issues relating to food safety including: personal hygiene; food from approved sources; inadequate cooking; improper holding and contaminated equipment.
- Designed to assist managers in food safety training of facility staff.
- Course includes instruction, visual aids and evaluation designed to measure the student's comprehension of the major food safety concepts covered during class.
- Upon completion each student will receive a personalized Safe Food Worker wallet card to certify completion for job opportunities.
- Gives new food workers minimum qualifications for job prospects.
- Offered monthly at each CMDHD branch office.
- Low Cost: $10.00 per person.

Classes are being held monthly at the CMDHD branch offices from 9-11 a.m. on the following dates:
