Illuminati Meeting Hall

While on an astral travel journey I saw the illuminati having a meeting in a castle like location on the outskirts of a remote town somewhere in England and the United States.

There were Greek like pillars beside each illuminati member’s throne like chair, and beside each chair on the wall there was a stairs symbol with a sword piercing it in the middle.

The illuminati are comprised of members who are alchemists, wizards, and sorcerers. These members practice black magic and create chaos magic in the world to prevent technological advancement and progress on the planet.

All the illuminati members wore dark brown robes with hoods, and had swords strapped on the rob belts. The members meet every couple of months to showcase the progress of each of their missions and how far along they have advanced in the levels of their powers.
