

Projects School

What is Projects School?

Being a part of the annual Forum «Greater Europe Meetings: Paris 2016», Projects School is a brilliant opportunity for young people from the European continent to make their practical contribution to peace, prosperity and mutual understanding in the region of Greater Europe.

Participants from all over Europe convene to acquire precious project management skills and theoretic knowledge to implement them right there in practice by creating their own projects in international teams.

Projects are aimed at enhancing links between the countries of Greater Europe but they are not linked to any particular sphere of activity and completely depend on your ingenuity and interests.

What does it include?

The aim of the School is to provide inspired and motivated young people with necessary tools to realize their potential for creating better future of Greater Europe.

The programme of Projects School consists of three complementary parts:

- Lectures and panel discussions on the urgent topics concerning different dimensions of the Greater Europe region. Lectures are given by distinguished scholars with acknowledged achievements in their particular spheres while at panel discussions diverse opinions are presented, which invites lively debates.
- Theoretical training on how to create and implement international projects. Participants of Projects School are divided into groups under leadership of professional trainers who conduct teambuilding activities and provide teaching on the particularities of successful project work.
- Project work. Under wise supervision of professional trainers international teams are engaged in project making process.
