

Bridal Cocktail Reception in Park Slope

History Meets High-End, Fame, High Society and Utter Luxury

Recently engaged? Wondering what your next step is? If so, wedding and events-planner designer Lydia Short of TTT Events Planning, LLC has organized just the event for you. On May 17, Short will host a luxury, upscale bridal-cocktail reception for engaged couples.

TTT Events Planning will collaborate with premier wedding suppliers from the Tri-State area, including the Brooklyn Conservatory of Music, The Daily News' Wedding Guide and Robert London Photography, at a luxury cocktail reception to showcase the Brooklyn Conservatory of Music's amazing space for hosting intimate weddings, rehearsal dinners, bridal showers or cocktail receptions.

For two hours, brides-to-be and grooms-to-be will enjoy cocktails and a sampling of delicious finger foods – all while listening to musical entertainment by a live band. There will also be giveaways and prizes. One couple will be randomly selected for an amazing, luxury three-night vacation stay at the Grand Velas Riviera Maya in Mexico – complements of Grand Velas.

"I absolutely love making brides happy," says, Lydia Short. "It's a fun way for brides and grooms to learn about wedding suppliers without sales pressure or having to make an immediate decision. We've planned our cocktail reception to have an atmosphere of fun, joy, excitement and pure luxury fabulousness! It is our way of saying congratulations and thank you to these beautiful couples. It will be a red-carpet event. All that's needed is a valid ID, personality and a copy of the invite."

Lydia's slogan, "Think Simple, Think Elegance, Think Distinguished," and her signature high society design touch, along with her winning smile, enthusiastic and optimistic personality has earned her a place in the luxury planning design market. She will definitely provide thrills and inspiration for each couple with her signature designs at this awe-inspiring bridal cocktail event.

"We are absolutely thrilled to announce the Bridal Cocktail Reception hosted by TTT Events Planning, LLC on May 17, 2012 at 6:30 p.m. at the Brooklyn Conservatory of Music in Park Slope, Brooklyn, New York. The first 50 bridal couples to RSVP before April 30 will receive a special surprise." To RSVP email RSVP@thinkeventsplanning.com, invitations are none-transferable. Space is limited – RSVP today.
