We have proof! Chivalry and romance aren't dead—they're alive and well, right here in Lake Norman. We asked you to tell us about your fantastic husbands, and you responded with nominating essays that were heartfelt, thoughtful, and appreciative. We wish all our couples many more years of wedded bliss!

JASON & AMBER

DOVE

"Jason has made married life better than I ever dreamed it could be! He is so thoughtful—always willing to help with household chores and proactively fix whatever needs attention without me having to remind him. He works full time, has several side businesses, and does so much to provide for our family so I can stay at home with our two boys. Somehow he still manages to make time for us! I love how actively he pursues Christ and all he has done to help and encourage my personal walk with the Lord. Jason truly takes his role as spiritual head of our household seriously and he is someone I am so proud to follow."

LANDON & KAT
ECKLES

"Many have asked me if running a business with my husband is difficult; and while it has its moments, my husband makes the season that we are in right now—building our brand—the most fun that we have had to date! He empowers me by allowing me to build the vision of our business, Clean Juice, while encouraging me with endless support. He has made my dream become a reality, and he works with unwavering determination to now turn that reality into a success. More importantly, he is God fearing, leading our family in our walk with the Lord, and he loves our four children fiercely. I am blessed to have this strong, driven man by my side!"
