

Modern Algebra I: Group Theory

Examples of Groups

| Set | Operation | Order | Description | Identity | Inverse | Abelian? | Cyclic? | Other Notes(isomorphic groups, etc.) |
|------------|------------------|--------------|--------------------|-----------------|----------------|-----------------|----------------|--|
|            |                  |              |                    |                 |                |                 |                |  |
|            |                  |              |                    |                 |                |                 |                |  |
|            |                  |              |                    |                 |                |                 |                |  |
|            |                  |              |                    |                 |                |                 |                |  |
|            |                  |              |                    |                 |                |                 |                |  |
|            |                  |              |                    |                 |                |                 |                |  |