

Summary

A group of researchers invented the method of measuring the energy state of the 12 main meridians with the help of a special acoustic sensor. This sensor is placed on the various pulse points of both hands.

The Pulse Metabolic Analyzer consists of:

- | Special Acoustic USB Sensor like a pen
- | Analytic Software

Correcting the Metabolic State of Meridians

Traditional Chinese Medicine utilizes the meridians to correct health imbalances. The effects of Western medicine can also be reflected in the state of the meridians.

Analyzing the meridians can become a valuable tool for any practitioner in helping their patients improve their health.

The PMA System:

- | Automatically reads the traditional Chinese pulses
- | Reduces the subjectivity and makes pulse analysis easy
- | Gives the practitioner detailed information on excess and deficient meridians
- | Produces an Oriental Medicine analysis of the meridians such as heat, cold, damp, wind, etc.
- | Make herbal and food recommendations to restore balance
- | Allows the practitioner to test before and after treatments for effectiveness
- | Very affordable cost includes education online, software licensing and pulse analysis device
- | Comprehensive Heart Rate Variability and other advanced equipment available

Combining Eastern & Western Analysis in an Advanced, Automated System

The Pulse Metabolic Analysis System (PMA) is a state of the art acupuncture meridian measurement and diagnostic system. The PMA utilizes a sophisticated acoustic digital probe-sensor and advanced computer analytic software.

PMA products have been in production for several decades and are used by many practitioners all over the world. Our latest hardware and software product combines our years of extensive knowledge, research and experience, with the latest technology on the market today.

Using our acoustic digital probe-sensor and new analytic software, our Pulse Metabolic Analysis system measures the Ce-May (Classical Chinese) energy in the 12 major meridians and a quantitative analysis of the Five Elements in each meridian. This allows practitioners to automatically measure the pulses of the different (Ce-May Chinese) meridian pulse locations. The system then automatically enters, graphs, and analyzes those measurements enabling the practitioner to diagnose and treat their patients.

The PMA Software contains comprehensive entry & result graphs, illustrations of Qi Circulation, Yin-Yang Qi distributions, Absolute Value of distortions in the 12 meridians, Ayurveda Medicine - Tri-Doshas distributions, Acid-Base Balance in the 12 meridians/organs and charts for pH distributions inside / outside cells and membrane potentials, pH of the blood from the 12 organs, multiple graph comparisons, treatment descriptions, Five Element conversion, and much more.

Our goal is to incorporate the ancient (TCM) and contemporary (Western medicine) principles and procedures of acupuncture into a successful, mainstream, Western-based practice and to provide you with the knowledge and tools to achieve that success.

PMA Features:

- Easy installation – Simply plug the Probe into your computer and follow the simple installation instructions for your software and you're up and running in no time.
- Fast & simple to use – Test meridians, graph results, get treatment analysis in minutes.

- Each time Accurate Pulse – Meridian measurement – Superior PMA Digital Probe & Advanced Software.
- Real time, onscreen display of meridian energy values. Digital electronic accuracy.
- The PMA Digital Probe plugs into your computer's USB port.
- Always calibrated, always correct.
- Completely Safe – This is extremely critical: the probe is not dependent on your computer's voltage or the practitioner's intent.
- By clicking on the Recipe button you have everything at your fingertips.

Recipes include:

- Five Elements Food (By nature: Cold, Cool, Neutral, Warm, Hot – Food)
- Five Qi Consent (Excess or Depleted Five Elements in each of the 12 meridians)
- Food Energy (Food recommendations by energy correlations with diagnosis)
- Herbs (Herbals recommendations by correlations with diagnosis)
- Meridian Functionality (Priorities of Hyper function or Depression of 12 meridians)
- Meridian Homeopathic Complexes (German Homeopathic MK complexes)
- Homeopathy (Based on Ayurvedic Homeopathy divisions on Tri-Doshas)
- Trace Minerals (Trace mineral depletions and correlations with diagnosis)
- Major Six Ions (Major Ions: K, Mg, Na, Ca, H, OH deficiency or excess)

We believe the tool to add to your practice is the new PMA system.

It will save you time and money, enhance patient healing, and increase referrals from satisfied patients, all while building a successful and purposeful practice.
