Legal Boot Camp will be jointly hosted by The Budding Entrepreneur Academy and Fortune Law

Legal Boot Camp is a collaboration between The Budding Entrepreneur Academy and Fortune Law.

Fortune Law is a commercial law firm based in London. They have considerable experience in acting for blue chip clients and listed plcs but the majority of their clients are entrepreneurs, smart start ups and SMEs. They advise solely on aspects of commercial and corporate law.

Areas of advice cover company law, commercial property, employment law, dispute resolution and intellectual property matters. Fortune Law regularly advises clients on the drafting and negotiation of shareholder agreements, commercial leases, bespoke terms and conditions and employment contracts together with intellectual property protection, negotiation and strategy in relation to commercial disputes and handling all aspects of business acquisitions and disposals.

Speakers

Shainul Kassam

Specialties: General commercial law with a niche in listed company advisory. Dispute resolution. I act for smart startups and growing businesses and their founders on a variety of business challenges including fundraising through commercial lending or equity, commercial contracts, growth and relocation. I also advise on contentious matters including shareholder disputes. A key sector specialism is hospitality acting for restaurants, pubs, bars, clubs and hotels.

Katherine Gilroy

I advise on a broad range of commercial law matters including company and commercial law, commercial property, intellectual property, employment law and dispute resolution. I also advise on the restoration of dissolved companies by court order or by application to the Government Legal Department and Companies House, and on the recovery of bona vacantia assets.
