

Top Ten Tips for Sponsorship Seekers

by Kim Skildum-Reid

Before you get involved in seeking sponsorship, there are a few tips that can help you to get your head around the task at hand.

Tip 1

Sponsorship is not about your need; it's about achieving the sponsor's objectives. If you can't – or are unwilling to – accept this, don't even try to gain sponsorship. There is no such thing as free money.

Tip 2

Sponsors don't need to share your passion for your event or organisation in order to sponsor you. They just need to be able to see the commercial benefit. Focus on that in any proposal you provide.

Tip 3

Do your very best to gain sponsorship from companies or brands that are a natural fit with your event or organisation. The more they look like they are an authentic part of an audience's experience, the better marketing platform sponsors will have and the less potential they have to detract from your credibility.

Tip 4

Be sure your whole organisation understands why sponsorship is important to you and is prepared to treat your sponsors like marketing partners. If your colleagues think sponsorship is just free money or a necessary evil, the sponsors will know and your relationship will be difficult.

Kim Skildum-Reid is a Sydney-based corporate sponsorship consultant, author, trainer, and coach with a blue-chip, global clientele. For more on how she can help you transform your approach to sponsorship, check out www.powersponsorship.com.

Tip 5

Putting logos on things for awareness and exposure is very old school and is no longer a primary goal of sponsorship. Go ahead and offer to put logos wherever you want – just make sure your proposals offer far more substance to sponsors. Exposure is not the cake, it's not the frosting, it's simply the cherry on the top.

Tip 6

Start at least twelve months before an event if you are seeking any kind of substantial sponsorship. It can take some sponsors months to make a decision and they usually need at least six months to get their leverage program together before the event. This is for your benefit, as well as the sponsors'. If you get knocked back, you need to have enough time to source another sponsor.

Tip 7

Keep in mind that you may be working with a very big, very bureaucratic organisation. Be sure your proposal can stand on its own without the personal enthusiasm you may put into your first presentation, as it will likely be passed around to a dozen or more people who will all have input into the decision.

Tip 8

It's better to get a couple of big sponsors than lots of small ones, if at all possible. There is less clutter for them and less sponsor management for you. Small sponsors are just as hard to look after as big ones and can quickly drain your time and energy.

Tip 9

Don't ever think that once you've got the cheque your job is done. If you don't service sponsors properly, they will never give you another cent and will talk about you unfavourably to their peers. At worst, you will end up in litigation.

Tip 10

Be sure you understand the basics of sponsorship before you try your hand at it. Go to a workshop, read a book or two, and start networking with people in the business. This is a very rewarding field, but one that requires some very specific skills to be successful. If you don't do it properly, you will not get the money you are looking for, and may well burn bridges for funding in the future.

Additional resources

- ▶ *The Sponsorship Seeker's Toolkit 3rd Edition* – by Kim Skildum-Reid and Anne-Marie Grey, published by McGraw-Hill
- ▶ *The Corporate Sponsorship Toolkit* – Published by Freya Press. Available from any good bookstore.
- ▶ Find a Sponsorship Broker– We do not offer a brokerage service, but we do have a listing of brokers from around the world.
- ▶ Kim Skildum-Reid's Corporate Sponsorship Blog – This is my blog (obviously) and I try to include a lot of how-to for both sponsors and sponsorship seekers.
- ▶ Free White Papers and Templates – We have a broad variety of white papers and templates that are available for download at no charge.
- ▶ "Last Generation Sponsorship" – A groundbreaking, free, PDF white paper by Kim Skildum-Reid on best practice sponsorship and what it can do for you.
- ▶ I also offer consulting, workshops, webinars, and in-house training, and professional coaching for sponsors and sponsorship seekers, as well as options for government and industry associations. Contact Kim's team on admin@powersponsorship.com or more on consulting, customised in-house training, and coaching, or register at www.powersponsorship.com to find out about upcoming workshops in your area.