ABOUT US

PROWIBO is a corporate training provider and a branch of Professors Without Borders, a social enterprise registered in the UK that focuses on education and progress in emerging markets.

Our expertise includes professional training for government officials, businesses and academics.

All training is delivered by qualified professionals and consultants with extensive experience around the world.

Our Government Training Program (GTP) offers short year-round training courses and on-demand tailor-made classes for civil servants, policy-makers, judges and diplomats.

Research shows that 90% of new skills are lost within a year due to the lack of follow-up and meaningful assessment.

Our competitive advantage is our ability to carry out practical training courses in your country and in the UK, while offering follow-up training and support to make sure you fulfill your potential in the long-run.

Who should attend?

- Civil servants
- Policy makers
- Diplomats
